

STATE PROMISES TO RAISE BAN ON NEW SEWERS

June building soars to new high record

Arlington Heights June building permits have hit a new high. They call for 62 single family homes and with one store and a few garages, total $684,999.

The end is not in sight. As announced at the board meeting Monday night three major developments will be on the way as soon as plans for the enlarged treatment plant are accepted.

The potential residential growth is alarming. The civic services that these new residents will require, effect not only the municipality, but also the school systems.

Fourteen of the 62 homes are being built for private owners. They include:

J. C. Brien, Kensington rd.

Robert E. Helfers, 835 N. Fern-nantz.

Richard L. Clark, 1002 Forest

ave.

T. Panek, West Kirchhoff rd.

John Svetanoff, 204 Wing.

Walter Heidorn, 315 W. Sig-walt.

Robt. Bickowski, 520 S. Chestnut.

S. R. Paddock, Jr., 729 N.

Mitchell.

Chas. Pingel, 422 S. Evergreen.

Wm. Nelson, 827 Ridge.

E. Pelletier, 510 Dwyer.

H. J. Sliechmyer, 1001 N.

Highland.

George Pendergast, 916 Vail.

Donald Smith.

Leonard Besinger has been given permits for 25 additional homes in Scarsdale. He readily made some changes in building design at the recommendation of

L. T. Rinker, of the Scarsdale

Property Owners association.

Piar Development Co. will also erect three homes in Scarsdale.

Trude Land Development will erect 11 more homes in the

Scarsdale area. Others are Community Builders 2, True-Craft

Homes 2, John Lindstrom 3.

Gigantic VFW
festival planned for July 26-30

Summer time is festival time and Arlington Heights citizens have concluded one successful affair and are now in the midst of gigantic plans for another.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary, Post 981, are working out plans for their festival to be held July 26-30, and according to reports from headquarters this year's festival is to be one of the most spectacular events ever staged in Arlington Heights. The five evenings will be packed full of first rate entertainment of such a variety that there will be something to please everyone.

TRADITIONAL booths, games and rides will fill the festival grounds, plus an all star attraction of a wild life exhibit, the only one of its kind to ever appear in Arlington. The exhibit is being furnished through the courtesy of the Department of Conservation, with Conservation Officer Jack Clark of Arlington Heights in charge.

The final day of the festival, July 30, will feature a huge parade made up of top drum and bugle corps, men from the Marine Corps Reserve, a platoon and color guard from the Ninth Infantry Battalion, Evanston, under the command of Captain Thomas A. Bruns, USMCR, and the 133rd Anti-aircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion of the Illinois National Guard, under the command of Lt. Col. Eugene J. Mojeske. The latter will be made up of 100 men and a field demonstration will be given when the parade disbands at Recreation Park.

Opening night will find the famed Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teens again in the limelight. Their show will be given the first two nights of the festival, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

ACTS ON OTHER nights will include The Lancasters—man and woman novelty gymnasts, with canine circus; and the Novellos—man and woman presenting a sensational trapeze and ladder balancing attraction. Dr. E. W. Baumann will be Master of Ceremonies for all the evening shows.

Proceeds from the festival will go toward the VFW's proposed club house, which will cost around $40,000 to build.

Ask Mt. Prospect residents' approval to 16-lane bowling alley

A public opinion poll is being conducted this week to determine whether the people of Mt. Prospect want a new 16-lane bowling alley in the village.

Construction of the alleys is contingent on the people's wishes. According to experts consulted by the prospective builder, a modern bowling alley of this size cannot be operated profitably nowadays without a cocktail lounge in conjunction therewith. If the people approve, he promises Mt. Prospect will have "one of the finest bowling alleys in the northwest area."

County board denies re-zoning petitions

Cook County board recently denied three re-zoning petitions. They were as follows:

Petition to have property located on the east side of Milwaukee ave., approximately 800 feet southeast of the intersection of Milwaukee ave. and Central rd., rezoned from farming (F) to business-Tavern-amusement (B-2) district, in order to operate a golf driving range on the land.

Glenview and Wheeling objected to the reclassification as being harmful to property values in the area. The Zoning Board of Appeals recommended that the petition be denied as it would be "not in the public interest."

ARTHUR T. MCINTOSH & Company's petition asking that 2½ acres located on the east side of Sanders road between Walters and Maple ave. in Northfield Township, be rezoned from farming (F) to business (B-1) district, was denied.

McIntosh and Company sought the reclassification so that four lots in a subdivision of 137 lots might be sold to individuals for the purpose of operating retail stores on them. At a hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals, local property owners objected to the proposed reclassification, on ground that property values would be injured.

The petition of Mrs. Anna Keller, Rts. 1, Arlington Heights, to have her property located on the northwest corner of Higgins road and Lela st. in Elk Grove township, reclassified from farming (F) to business (B-1), in order that she might operate a beauty salon, was also denied Monday.

The Zoning Board of Appeals held that such rezoning would be "spot zoning" and not in the "public interest." Mrs. Keller has been operating the beauty salon in the front room of her home as a "home occupation."

The petition of Robert A. Schell of Arlington Heights to have an acre located on the northwest corner of Algonquin rd. and Arlington Heights rd. in Elk Grove township reclassified from farming (F) to the light industry (I) district, was referred by the County Board to the Zoning Board of Appeals for hearing.

4 autos damaged
in stop-light pile-up

Four cars were involved in an accident near the corner of Dundee Road and Wille Ave. in Wheeling last week Tuesday. The first car was driven by Robert Tiley of Chicago. After bringing his car to a stop on Dundee for the traffic light. Two more cars, driven by Homer L. Webb of Lake Villa and by Raymond Paus of Chicago, stopped behind the Tiley car.

Howard Foster of Lake Villa rammed the last car causing the other two to hit.

No one was injured seriously. Mr. Foster received minor head and leg bruises. All four cars were damaged.

Another accident occurred Saturday in front of the Harry Jaegerman's Bait Shop on S. Milwaukee ave.

Warren Hoppe of 1525 N. Mason ave., Chicago, was driving south on Milwaukee when he lost control of his car. After crossing three lanes of the highway he ended up in the Haegermann driveway facing the opposite direction.

No one was injured.

Appeal board
meets Friday on residence set-back

Arlington Heights village board and Mayor Goedke did not agree recently on the proposal that setbacks be required to allow driveways on residences without attached garages.

After the passage of the motion, Mayor Goedke exercised the right of veto. A compromise agreement was reached between the mayor and aldermen to allow the matter to be passed upon by the zoning board of appeals, as is required by law.

A public hearing for that purpose will be held at the village hall this Friday evening. Mayor Goedke says that the passage of the proposed ordinance would ban ranch type homes without attached garages from all 50-ft. lots.

The proposed requirements are that there be a set-back from adjoining property of not less than five feet. It is now three feet.

It also provides that there be nine feet allowed on the other side of the house for an entrance driveway to a possible garage at rear of residence.

It is expected that a large number will attend the hearing. The recommendation of the appeal board is not binding upon the village board, which will have the last word.

Palatine Legion - Lions carnival opens Thursday for four days

The big Legion-Lions carnival, crowded with special events and attractions for the whole family, opens a four day stand at the Palatine carnival grounds tonight, Thursday. The familiar song of the concession barker will mingle with the noise of the crowds and cheers of the spectators at the special events arena. More than 20,000 people are expected to enjoy the four day summer program before it closes late Sunday night.

There are rides for the kids—and grown-ups too—including the ferris wheel, tilt-a-whirl, merry-go-round and roller coaster as well as other special young fry attractions. There are a multitude of concessions along the midway to provide everyone with an evening of frolic and fun.

A LONG LIST of special events, free to everyone, has been scheduled for the four big evenings and one afternoon. The carnival will get an appropriate send-off at 8 p.m. tonight, Thursday, when the Palatine high school band will officially open the entertainment at the special events arena.

Following the band concert, the first of several talent hunt shows will begin on the special events stage. Besides the more than dozen local acts, several will be included from the June Rold school of dancing of Des Plaines. Another talent hunt, with a new roster of acts, will begin at 10 p.m. Between the two talent shows Mel's Melodious Melody Makers will play for street dancing in the square at the carnival. There'll be prizes for the dancers and it's all free!

FRIDAY NIGHT'S activities will begin at 8 p.m. on the special events stage with a new talent show. Spectators will get their first glimpse of the beauty contestants at 10 p.m. at the beauty parade. Seven Palatine beauties are entered in the event including Penny Sullivan, Greta Neilsen, Gertrude Schwolow.

Saturday's evening activities start again at 8 p.m. with the talent hunt and conclude at 10 p.m. with judging for the beauty contestants.

Newlyweds and dogs furnish plenty grief
to police department

Arlington Heights police have only the best of wishes for newlyweds but announced this week that the lid is going to be clamped down tight on noisy wedding parades. There have been so many complaints that the police department has been given instructions to stop the "horn blowing."

"The racing, noisy cars are in violation of village ordinances and it must stop," says Chief Skoog, who has given orders that the next wedding parade be taken to the police station for booking.

DOG COMPLAINTS from residents of Arlington Heights tops all other complaints. In turn, the answer must be found. Ordinances of Park Ridge, Des Plaines and Mt. Prospect are being checked.

Unless dog owners keep their dogs at home it may be necessary to hire a dog catcher, build a pound and a site for a dog cemetery.

The cost of services of a dog catcher might require a charge of as much as $5.00 for dogs impounded.

The police department is not hard boiled, but unless dog owners cooperate by keeping their dogs from annoying neighbors they are inviting stringent measures.

Fires do small damage; $400
TV set stolen

Fires, theft and a prowling drunk were some of many calls answered by Arlington Heights police and fire departments the past week.

The fire calls included a barn at the F. W. Weber home, 1035 N. State rd. Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman says the roof evidently caught fire from sparks from a nearby bonfire. The department was called out about 9 a. m. Saturday and brought the fire under control with little damage resulting.

A CAR BELONGING to Vernon Walter, 237 S. Highland, was the cause of the second fire call, about 7 a. m., Sunday. Fire in the '46 Ford had probably smoldered all night before it was discovered. Damage was restricted to the car's interior.

Police records show that a $400 Television set had been stolen out of the American Legion Home some time between June 20 and 22. The set was a 12 inch Crosley Table Model F. M. and Television.

(The Arlington police received a report from Riverside Police that on the night of June 25 the Riverside Legion Home had been entered and two television sets and a mixmaster had been stolen.)

A RESIDENT in the Vail Davis building thought somebody was trying to enter the Lingen store from the back alley Saturday night and called the police. It turned out to be a 74-year-old man, who was drunk and looking for a place to sleep. The police locked him up for the night.

Richard Lang, three years old, fell out of a second story window at 214 N. Evergreen last week, Tuesday. He received a fractured skull and broken left arm. Dr. Carr was the attending physician and the boy is undergoing treatment at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, where he is coming along as well as can be expected.

'Your Hobby Shop' to open in Arlington
Heights this week end

Anyone who likes to tinker around with model airplanes and railroads, or with ship models will be happy to know Arlington Heights now has its own hobby shop.

W. W. Zechel has established "Your Hobby Shop" conveniently at 8½ Duntun st. Here will be available gas and flying model airplanes, model railroad, hobby cutting tools, educational toys, racing cars, ship models and equipment for various handicrafts, such as leathercraft, metal stamping, metal embossing, figurine painting and wood carving.

The grand opening of "Your Hobby Shop" has been set for this week end, July 7 and 8. Mr. Zechel believes his business venture will have particular appeal for high school boys and girls and plans a survey to learn the sentiment for a model airplane club.

Shop hours at the beginning will be from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; from 6:30 to 9 p. m. on Wednesday, and from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturdays.

Edwin Busse recovering from serious operation

Edwin L. Busse, operator of the grocery and market at 104-6 Northwest Highway, Mt. Prospect, is in the Wesley Memorial hospital, Chicago, recovering from an operation to remove a cyst from his lung. He is reported to have withstood the surgery very well.

THANK FIREMEN

We wish to thank the Jacob family and the Arlington Heights firemen for their prompt action during the fire at the Weber farm, Arlington Heights, last Saturday morning.

The Mt. Prospect public library opened in its new building Monday morning, after being closed for two weeks while moving.

Architects have promised all workmen will be through before the end of this week, and the books will be completely in order about the same time, according to Mrs. L. W. Kester, board president. She extends a cordial invitation to everyone to drop in and visit their new library.

Developers get definite promise;
need OK of new sewer ordinance

Developers in non-sewer areas of Arlington Heights have long been crying on the shoulders of Arlington Heights village board members asking how soon they will be permitted to put in sewers and connect to the main line.

A. W. Komarek, developer of the proposed Westgate subdivision, gave a new light on this subject at Monday night's village board meeting.

He, as well as several other members of the Westgate project, arranged a meeting with Gov. Stevenson and the State Sanitary Water Board about two weeks ago to discuss the sewer problem in this area. Their main objective was to find out just how soon after plans for the sewer extension are completed and passed by the village board could they go ahead with their building project and connect to village sewers.

AFTER A TWO HOUR discussion Komarek was assured that as soon as the village board accepted its engineers plans for enlarging the sewer system in Arlington Heights, and an ordinance on same was prepared and passed, developers would be permitted to connect to the existing sewer. Komarek has letters from both the Governor and the Water Board stating same.

This was an answer also sought by C. A. Goetz, who is developing property on Beverly and Hickory sts., northeast of the village, which does not have sewer. Goetz has received permission from the board to put in sewer, stubs, street and curb as long as he does not connect to the main line until given an OK by the State Sanitary Water Board.

It is estimated that it will take from six to eight weeks before the plans are completed. In the meantime the village board will be able to give more definite answers to developers of non-sewer areas.

H. R. JACOBSEN and Co. reported to the letter written by the Village Clerk through the request of the board, asking that he complete the sections of Watling rd. and Harvard ave., in the Sherwood subdivision as per his original plans. Jacobsen assured the board that he would let the contract within 60 days.

The Clerk was instructed to write him stating that the board's letter asked that the roads be completed in 60 days, and that he will be given until September 1 to have the roads finished.

THE VILLAGE health officer will be instructed to investigate a septic tank in the W. Campbell st. area, which neighbors are complaining is a health hazard.

At the time the village sewer was installed an ordinance was passed that all houses along the sewer line be connected, abandoning their septic tanks.

During the month of June building permits for 62 residences, amounting to $684,999, were issued by Building Commissioner E. J. Ahmer. Permits were also issued for 10 garages, $7,695; one store, $4,000; and alterations to four housekeeping dwellings amounting to $4,886.95.

Court rules tavern can lose state license on slot machine conviction

The Appellate court for northern Illinois ruled Friday that the state liquor control commission may refuse a license to an applicant even if he has been granted one by local authorities.

The high court held that the commission has the right to investigate for itself the criminal record and character of a tavern keeper and may refuse to issue him a license.

State Attorney General Ivan A. Elliott called Friday's decision an important victory for law enforcement. He said "it deals a serious blow to gambling and other vice in taverns and night clubs throughout the state."

The Appellate court in its ruling reversed the Cook County Superior court which said the tavern owner with a local liquor license should be automatically granted a state license without investigation, and even if the applicant had been convicted of a felony.

In the case ruled on Friday, Elliott said that two of the applicants had been convicted of gambling and a third had allegedly permitted gambling in a tavern.

The case had been appealed by the Retail Liquor Dealers Protective association of Illinois.

COUNTY BOARD President William N. Erickson Friday revoked the retail liquor license of Ralph DiCostanzo, owner of Ralph's Place, 2347 Waukegan road, Northfield township.

Erickson, who is Local Liquor Control commissioner for the unincorporated parts of Cook county, acted upon the recommendation of State's Attorney John S. Boyle, who had charged that there were repeated gambling violations listed for DiCostanzo's place.

Swim classes at the Arlington Heights pool were filled to overflowing at time of registration, but since classes started few youngsters have shown up for lessons.

Swim instructor, Dave Allen, feels that maybe the weather has been a little cool or the youngsters just haven't got into the swing of things to date. However, rather than have an "empty pool" during lesson time it has been decided to open registrations to youngsters from surrounding towns who were unable to register before.

Anyone interested in receiving instructions in swimming from first rate instructors should sign up at the pool this week. Lessons are free with season passes or single pool admissions.

Persons who are interested in adult classes should also register at the pool within the next few days, so that a class can be formed.

45th anniversary of former Wheeling pastor

The 45th anniversary of the ordination of Rev. H. J. Wiegand, former pastor of the Wheeling Presbyterian church, was celebrated June 27 at the Berkeley Presbyterian church, Melrose Park.
Rev. Wiegand was ordained at Wheeling church in 1905 and served that church for 22 years. He was then transferred to DuPage church, and in 1945 went to Berkeley.
Mr. and Mrs. Wiegand's older son, David, lives near Melrose Park and serves the church as organist. Their younger son, Walter, lives at home with his parents.
Several Wheeling friends joined in last week Tuesday's celebration.

Notice of Public Hearing

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held Friday evening, July 28, 1950, at 8:00 P. M., in the Municipal Building, 101 West Davis st., Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, on a petition to rezone several parcels of land from its present classification to Residential District "A" (for single family residences). The property to be considered is legally described as follows:

PROPERTY IN RESIDENCE DISTRICT B
PARCEL 1
Lots 11, 12, 13 and 14 in Block 1 and lots 15, 16, 17 and 18 in Block 2 in Arlington Park, being a subdivision of the North half of the North West quarter (except the North 25 feet thereof) of Section 30, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying North Easterly of the North line of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, in Cook County, Illinois.

PARCEL 2
Lots 19, 20 and 21 in Block 16 and Lots 11 and 12 in Block 17 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 3
Lots 12, 13, and 14 in Block 2 and Lots 15, 16, 17 and 18 in Block 3 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 4
Lots 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26 in Block 15 and Lots 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 in Block 16 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 5
Lots 11, 12, 13 and 14 in Block 3 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 6
Lots 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 in Block 15 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PROPERTY IN COMMERCIAL DISTRICT
PARCEL 7
Lots 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 in Block G and Lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 in Block H in the re-subdivision of certain blocks and parts of blocks and vacated streets in R. A. Cepek's Arlington Ridge, being a subdivision of the part of the West half (except the East 33 feet thereof) of the North East 1/4 and of the South 1/2 of the North West 1/4 of Section 30, Township 42 North, Range 11, East of the Third Principal Meridian, lying North of the North Easterly line of the Northwest Highway, said North Easterly line of the highway being 66 feet North Easterly of and parallel to the North Easterly line of Chicago and Northwestern Railway right of way, in Cook County, Illinois.

PARCEL 8
Lots 11 (except the South Easterly 16 feet thereof), 12 and 13 in Block 10 in R. A. Cepek's Arlington Ridge aforesaid.

PARCEL 9
Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 in Block 13 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 10
Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10 in Block 15 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 11
Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 in Block 16 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

PARCEL 12
Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10 in Block 17 in Arlington Park aforesaid.

The foregoing described property is commonly known as the Northeastly side of the Northwest Hwy. from Patton ave. to Wilke rd., thence north on the east side of Wilke road to Brown street, which is now zoned Commercial District; and the portions of Blocks 1, 2, 3, 15, 16 and 17 of Arlington Park subdivision which is now zoned Residential District "B" for multiple residences.

All persons interested, should attend and will be given an opportunity to be heard.

CAMERA TOPICS

By T. T. Holden*

A red filter to dramatize the sky and clouds and penetrate atmospheric haze made this aerial Speed Graphic photo by Edwin W. Collins a prize-winner.

THE HOW AND WHY OF FILTERS

Photographic filters of colored glass or gelatin may be placed over the lens to correct color-rendering in terms of black-and-white or to distort brightness values of colors for purposes of increasing contrast.
A filter transmits light of its own color and absorbs complementary colors. If red and blue objects are photographed through a red filter, the blue will appear dark in the picture and the red light. The reverse would be true with a blue filter.
Because filters allow less total light to reach the film, they call for increased exposure time. The amount of increase is determined by the filter factor. A filter factor of two tells you to double the normal exposure; four to quadruple it. The greater the filter factor, the more correction can be expected from a filter. With a light red filter, the sky will photograph gray. A dark red filter with a factor of six to ten will make the sky appear black.
There are literally hundreds of filters available in many different colors and densities. Only one, a medium yellow filter, should be a part of every photographer's equipment. This will be used primarily to make the sky photograph in gray tones instead of chalky white and to bring out cloud detail. It should be used on most outdoor pictures.
Remembering that a filter transmits its own color and absorbs complementary ones, you can determine what other filters might be useful in certain types of photography. A red one for instance, is handy in architectural work to bring out building details and create a dark, dramatic background.
Don't clutter up your kit with a lot of useless special filters. When in doubt, just use the yellow, or none at all.

Surprise celebration honors Rev. Mueller as pastor for 40 years

Surprise celebration was held at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect in honor of the fortieth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. J. E. A. Mueller Sunday, July 2.
Approximately 250 persons attended the church service which had Rev. Edward H. H. Gade preach the sermon, Rev. O. A. Groth as the liturgist, Elmer Jackisch as the organist and Mrs. Edward Wahl and Mrs. Arthur Garbisch as the soloists.
Following the service coffee and cake were served in the school auditorium where everyone had an opportunity to congratulate Rev. Mueller.
Rev. Mueller was born in Chicago October 8, 1887. He graduated from Concordia Seminary in Milwaukee in 1907 and then attended the Theological Seminary in St. Louis where he graduated in June of 1910.
He was ordained in the ministry July 12, 1910 by his father, Rev. J. E. A. Mueller Sr. Rev. Mueller's first call took him to Napoleon, N. D. Early in 1913 he accepted a call to St. Paul Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect and was installed here January 12 of that year.
November 5, 1913, he was married to Miss Sophia Busse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Busse of Mt. Prospect and this marriage was blessed with three children, Jack, George and Paula.
Rev. Mueller has served St. Paul as its first and only resident pastor to this present time.

Purple Finch
The purple finch goes through peculiar antics during the mating season. He picks up a straw in his bill and handles it much as a drum major handles a baton. These maneuvers are designed to attract the female of his choice. When his dance is finished, he falls over and plays "possum" in a bid for his "lady's" sympathy.

Bifocal Glasses
The invention of bifocal glasses was an invention not of necessity, but of convenience. This type lens was invented by Benjamin Franklin to save himself the trouble of changing his glasses when looking from near objects to distant ones.

Date Palm
The date palm, the oldest cultivated tree known to history, bears from 100 to 600 pounds of fruit a year, and may be productive for a hundred years. Even a single cluster may bear 200 dates and weigh up to 25 pounds.

The Library corner

With vacation time at hand, perhaps you'd like to read about some of the interesting places you might visit. New travel books are frequently added to the collection at the Arlington Heights Public Library.
"We Fell in Love with Quebec," by Dean and Marshall is a personal record of adventure across the whole province of Quebec from Montreal to the quaint Gaspe peninsula. This book gives visitors to Canada an exciting itinerary of places to see and an understanding of the places seen. It is illustrated with many photographs and a map.
"Niagara Country" by Lloyd Graham gives a detailed history of the years of strife over these important waterways, as well as a glowing description of one of the most attractive and prosperous regions of the entire country.
"Rocky Mountain Empire" provides revealing glimpses of the West in transition from old to new, from the pages of the Rocky Mountain Empire Magazine of "The Denver Post."
Out of the Ozarks comes "Backwoods Teacher" by Joseph Nelson—a human, original refreshing comedy of an American way of life untouched by the modern world.
Frances Parkinson Keyes takes the reader to the Pelican state in "All This Is Louisiana," in which she describes in story book form the many aspects of life there. It is illustrated with a series of fine photographs. This absorbing book will appeal to the general reader, as well as the traveler, the geographer and the historian.

News of VFW Post 981

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 981, Arlington Heights, are urged to attend the meeting this Friday night, at 8:15 o'clock, at the village hall.
Plans are being laid for the Post's fourth annual festival and the aid of all members will be necessary to make this event the "greatest show to ever hit Arlington." The success of the festival may determine whether or not the VFW can start building their proposed clubhouse within the next year. They now have title to the property at Yale and Northwest hwy., where the clubhouse is to be erected.
Post 981 is now a corporation of the non-profit making class. The club received its charter May 29 and George Svetanoff is the registered agent. The corporation status will enable the operation of the proposed clubhouse and will protect the interests of the Post.
The VFW wishes to thank the village board and the zoning board for their recent help in getting their clubhouse property rezoned. The Arlington Heights Police Department is also given a vote of thanks by the Post this week for seeing to it that the American flag is flown over this village each day. This flag is flown half mast whenever a veteran from the community dies.

Calf Feeding
Surplus colostrum diluted with warm water—2 parts of colostrum and 1 part of water—is said to be a satisfactory replacement for whole milk in feeding young calves.

And then it rains!

ONE of life's daily dramas is the weather. The weatherman studies the situation and says tomorrow will be fair and warmer. You read about it in the newspaper and plan a picnic. And then it rains!

The newspaper brings you the report of the fact of rain and the opinions of the forecaster, the ball game score and the crop estimate, the report of a fire and the statements of the President.

Some people would have it otherwise. They would have the newspaper print no opinion—except their own. They would like to limit what you read. They think the free exchange of ideas and opinions is dangerous. It is—to them.

Opinions are as much a part of the news as facts. The newspaper brings you all sorts of both in order to serve you better. Facts are valuable because they help you form your own opinions. When opponents debate an issue you are better equipped to decide who is right. By reading facts and opinions you get the knowledge that guides your decisions on how to shape your life, how to invest your money, how to vote—how to stay free.

Now you can read what you want and decide as you want. Your enemies do not want you to do that. As long as you do, they cannot control you. They don't want you to know and use your wits to make the right decisions about men and issues. To achieve their aims they would close off your access to the world of knowledge.

Because the newspaper is your main source of facts and opinions it is the first to be attacked. To control your mind—and you—there is a studied plan to control what you read in newspapers. The scheme is to invade and take away your right of a free press—not just the newspaper's—but yours!

The newspapers have no monopoly on a free press. It belongs to everyone. And it belongs to you even though you never write a letter because the right of a free press includes your right to read.

If you think your right to read freely is not in danger, read the proposals that are being offered, supposedly in your interest, by certain commissions and committees operating under lofty-sounding names and in some cases on public funds.

You may agree with some of their arguments. That is your right. But before you make up your mind, take a second look. Newspapers only head the list. Control of your sources of information means control of your opinion and, if the experience of the people under Hitler and Stalin tells anything, under such control you can expect someone, someday, rain or shine, to tell you when you may have a picnic.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

"Twice-Fried" Potatoes

Here's a new trick to help you send French fried potatoes to the table golden-brown, crisp and piping hot. The secret is to fry the potatoes twice, using one of the new deep fat frying thermometers to keep the temperature exactly right. First the potatoes are partially cooked at a temperature of 360 degrees F. This can be done several hours before mealtime. Then just before serving, the potatoes are popped into fat heated to 390 degrees F. for about two minutes. Pictured above is a deep fat thermometer of shiny stainless steel with a round, clock-like face which extends above the frying kettle in an easy-to-read position.

Notice of Special Bond Election

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Saturday, the 15th day of July, 1950, a special election will be held in and for School District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said School District the following propositions:

1. Shall the School Directors of District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, be authorized to construct an addition and make certain improvements to the present school building now owned and used by this District for school purposes and commonly known as the Wilson School?

2. Shall the School Directors of District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, be authorized to issue school building bonds in the amount of $53,000, bear interest at a rate not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum, payable semi-annually, be of the denomination of $1,000 each and mature on January 1 of each of the years and in the amounts as follows:

4,000—1962 through 1970?

3. Shall the maximum tax rate for the educational fund of School District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, be established at 75 per cent on full, fair cash value instead of 50 per cent, the maximum rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended?

It is estimated that the approximate amount of taxes extendable for educational purposes under the proposed tax rate is $10,775.59, and that the approximate amount of the taxes extendable for educational purposes under the existing tax rate, subject to the provisions of the Revenue Act of the State of Illinois as amended and in force and effect August 2, 1949, is $4,690.97.

4. Shall the maximum tax rate for the building fund of School District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, be established at 25 per cent on full, fair cash value instead of 18.75 per cent, the maximum rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended?

It is estimated that the approximate amount of taxes extendable for building purposes under the proposed tax rate is $3,391.86, and that the approximate amount of the taxes extendable for building purposes under the existing tax rate, subject to the provisions of the Revenue Act of the State of Illinois as amended and in force and effect August 2, 1949 is $960.15.

That for said election the entire District shall constitute one (1) voting precinct and the polling place for said special election shall be the Wilson School, located at Palatine Road near the State Road, Cook County, Illinois.

The polls at said election will be opened at twelve o'clock, Noon, and closed at seven o'clock, P. M., Daylight Saving Time, on said day.

Cut noxious weeds

(Official Notice)

According to "An Act Concerning Noxious Weeds," all property owners are required by law to destroy noxious weeds growing on their premises before they reach the seed-bearing stage. Full cooperation by every property owner and municipality with the local Thistle Commissioner will be greatly appreciated.

As a land owner you are hereby notified that you are under a legal duty to destroy all such noxious weeds on the above described premises before seed-bearing stage, in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of the above mentioned act. The methods of treating and eradicating noxious weeds as recommended by the Department of Agriculture can be obtained from the undersigned.

Full cooperation from property owners will be necessary.

Yours truly,
LOUIS CLARK,
Commissioner of Noxious Weeds, Wheeling Township. (7-7)

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Carns
522 S. Chestnut

"I like the peacefulness and quietness of Arlington Heights," smiled pleasant Mrs. Carns when asked what impressed her most about our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Carns moved into their home at 522 S. Chestnut ave. on May 15. It is attractively constructed of brick and frame and contains six spacious rooms—just the right size for their family, especially since the arrival of the youngest member, three-month old Debra.

Steve, the four and one-half year old man in the family is the other child. Going to school will be a hop, skip and jump for Steve, since their home is conveniently located across the field from the South school.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carns are natives of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Mr. Carns' business transfer to the Chicago branch of International Business Machine brought the family to this area. They moved here from Quincy, Ill.

"Hobbies? We both like to arch and since we have our own target, bows and arrows, we do quite a bit of it. Stevie enjoys it too," said Mrs. Carns.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bohr
1429 N. Dunton

At the very end of N. Dunton st., we have new neighbors from McHenry, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bohr.

May 17 was moving day for these folks and in just one month, Father's Day, their "big event," Michael Joseph, came to town.

With a new baby, and many things to be done to the house, these young folks find their time well occupied.

"We have found Arlington Heights to be a progressive town as well as a pretty one," smiled Mrs. Bohr. "The friendliness of the people is something we also like," she continued.

As hobbies Mrs. Bohr likes to read and play the piano; her husband is a sports enthusiast, likes to hunt, fish and spends much of his time building and fixing things around the house.

With future plans for an additional bedroom, sun porch and interior work to be done, this man of the house will really be busy.

Mr. Bohr is employed with Sparkler Manufacturing Co. of Mundelein. Living upstairs are Mrs. Bohr's mother, sister and uncle, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Miss Josephine Johnson and Patrick Clark, respectively.

Boll Weevils In Winter

Some farmers believe that boll weevils spend the winter in the forest. This is not true. They spend the winter at the base of cotton stalks, under rocks, in old scare crows, in hollow fence posts, under shingles, in decayed siding on machine sheds, and other places except timber stands.

Light Switch

In Portland, Oregon, a light switch caused $60,000 damage. An engineer went into the basement to investigate a gas odor, and turned on the light. The spark from the switch set off an explosion which wrecked the building and injured the engineer.

Room with 'Floor Appeal'

In any decorative plan the floors are all-important. A good looking floor is as essential to the beauty of a room as are attractive walls and furnishings. This modestly decorated room has been planned "from the floor up." It utilizes to good advantage the mellow natural beauty of oak flooring as an integral part of the motif. The gleaming oak lends distinction and dignity, heightens "floor appeal." An added advantage is the economy effected in floor covering. Adaptable to any decorative plan, oak floors retain their beauty of grain and coloring indefinitely.

Seventh district women plan anniversary year

The all-important summer executive board meeting of the Seventh District, IFWC, held June 15, resulted in the formation of many plans for the District's 50th Anniversary Club Year coming up.

Dates were set and Hostess clubs announced for the three meetings to be held. Most important will be the Golden Anniversary celebration on Thursday, October 12, at Faith Evangelical Lutheran church in Arlington Heights. Arlington Hts. Woman's club, Lincoln Square Woman's club and the Woman's Club chorus will act as hostesses, and the women of Faith church will serve the luncheon. Mrs. A. R. Rohlfing, president of IFWC will be guest of honor, and an exceptionally fine program is being arranged.

The Winter meeting January 25, 1951, will be at Congregational church of Jefferson Park, with Forest Glen Service club, Past-President's club and South Edgebrook Woman's club, playing hostesses.

The Annual Meeting is scheduled for Thursday, April 19, at Albany Park Lutheran church, where Albany Park Woman's club, Irving Park Sorosis and Norwegian Woman's club members will do the honors as hostesses for the day.

Presidents of Seventh District Member Clubs announced the following Reciprocity days:

October 3, Woman's club of Palatine; October 4, Belmont Woman's Club; October 9, Norwood Park Woman's Club; October 10, Park Ridge Woman's Club; October 19, Leyden's Woman's Club; October 23, Irving Park Sorosis.

November 7, Mt. Prospect Woman's Club; November 11, Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club; December 4, Des Plaines Woman's Club; December 6, Kelynn Park Woman's Club; and March 26, Mayfair Woman's Club.

Other important dates for Seventh District Clubs to remember include:

October 3, Margaret Etter Creche tag day; November 10, Margaret Etter Creche pound party, and November 14, Park Ridge School for Girls jelly shower.

On July 20, Ways and Means committee will meet with temporary chairman, Mrs. Eugene Kuntzman, to decide on manner in which needed funds may be raised for the special demands of this anniversary year. Those serving with Mrs. Kuntzman are the president of Seventh district, Mrs. G. F. Gschwindt, Mrs. Wm. Heide, Mrs. G. L. Stadler, Mrs. W. L. Johnston, Mrs. L. L. Nieman, Mrs. N. D. Oram, Mrs. C. E. Piehl, Mrs. C. J. Heckel and Mrs. H. Schert.

Mrs. Gschwindt was proud of the two honorable mention awards won by Seventh District clubs, Arlington Heights Woman's club and Mt. Prospect Woman's club in the nation-wide Kroeger contest for outstanding community projects.

Mrs. H. E. Minters, retiring Art chairman for the district, named the Seventh District club-sponsored lad, who won a first prize in the State finals with his painting, "Outdoor Concert." He is Pat Amlin of Edgebrook school, sponsored by Edgebrook Woman's club, and he won a $50 tuition scholarship to the Art Institute. Seven other Chicago children won lesser awards in the State contest.

Parliamentary law classes for new officers or any club member who would like to attend, will be held on all but the 8th, 15th, 22nd and 29th from 10 to 12, except that on the 29th, there will also be an afternoon session from 1 to 3 p. m. Reservations must be made for enrollment.

FAME

Worldly fame is but a breath of wind that blows now this way, and now that, and changes name as it changes direction. —Dante

Beauty, wealth, or fame is incompetent to meet the demands of the affections, and should never weigh against the better claims of intellect, goodness and virtue. —Mary Baker Eddy

No true and permanent Fame can be founded except in labors which promote the happiness of mankind. —Charles Sumner

Nothing is less selfish than a desire of fame, since its only sure acquisition is by labouring for others. —Walter Savage Landor

Fame usually comes to those who are thinking about something else—very rarely to those who say to themselves, "Go to, now, let us be a celebrated individual!" —Oliver Wendell Holmes

Birthday parties

Jimmy Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mueller, had a lot of fun celebrating his fourth birthday June 27. He was well assisted by several of his little friends: Kenny Miller, Jackie Lindstrom, Patti Ann Ritter, Jackie and Jimmie Buckley, David Robson, Laura and Bobbie Eeles, Margaret and Terry Mulvaney, Richard Miller and his older brother, Kenny, assisted his mother in the party. Jimmy's grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mueller of Crystal Lake, were indulgent. Several relatives and friends dropped in and surprised William Andres on his birthday, July 2.

Neighbors go a-visiting

The three sons of the Edward J. Muellers are having a gay time visiting their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mueller of Crystal Lake over the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A.

Johnson, are visiting Mr. Utt's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andersen of Chippewa Falls, Wis., over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Dueball and daughters, Diane and Faith, drove to St. Louis to spend the holidays with Mrs. Dueball's mother, Mrs. Penelope Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Laseke and Mrs. Melvin Laseke and daughter, Karen Jean, spent the week end in Cleveland visiting Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwendemann, daughter of the Albert Lasekes.

The Edwin Ackerslund family drove to Eau Claire, Wis., to visit Mr. Ackerslund's mother, Mrs. W. Ackerslund, and will return the latter part of the week.

Three-year-old Blair Messinger, son of the Ken Messingers, is having a vacation with his grandmother, Mrs. John Pritchard of Chicago, while his mommy and daddy are busy working in the Legion carnival.

Subdivision meeting

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Sherwood Improvement Association will be held July 17, in the back yard of the L. B. Hendricks' home, 1102 Clarendon. Mark the date on your calendar.

Outing

The Frank Hubbard family recently enjoyed a picnic held by the International Business Machine Co. at St. Charles, Ill.

Sympathy

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nelson returned recently from Stambaugh, Mich., where they attended the funeral of Mr. Nelson's uncle, Sixtus Nelson.

Wedding attendant

Seven-year-old Arlene Andres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Andres, was a junior bridesmaid at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young of Chicago on Saturday. The ceremony was at St. Genevieve's church and the reception was held later at the Logan Square Athletic club.

House guests

Miss Mary Egan of Chicago, sister of Mrs. Harry Buckman, spent the week end with the family. They took in the races on Saturday.

Miss Ruth White of Chicago was the week end guest of the B. J. Colvins.

Subdivision picnic

The Arlington Crest subdivision will have a picnic on August 8 at Bangs Lake, Wauconda. They give every one plenty of notice, so they will be sure to save the day for the picnic.

Wedding anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Briel celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary Wednesday. They spent the day in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckman celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary July 4. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Barber of Evanston.

Neighbors entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Redfern, sister and husband of A. W. Bates, and Mr. and Mrs. George Goodlow of Downers Grove were guests for the day of the Bates family on Saturday.

On Sunday the Bates entertained Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schreiber of Chicago for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher were hosts to 18 people Saturday evening. They gave a very novel party. Their recreation room was decorated as a casino. On entering each guest was given so much stage money made by the hostess, and proceeded on to the casino. After an evening of hilarious fun, supper was served at 1 a. m. The winners for the evening were Mrs. Grace Hollinger and J. Barker. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bastedo, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schram, Mr. and Mrs. J. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. T. R.

Betty Mae Behrens and Leslie Kijak wed June 17

Miss Betty Mae Behrens, daughter of Mrs. Christine Behrens of Elgin and William Behrens of Elk Grove, was married June 17 to Leslie Kijak of Elgin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kijak of St. Joseph, Mich.

Rev. Arthur H. Werfelmann performed the 7 p. m. ceremony at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Elgin. Miss Marion Wohlfeil sang, "Because" and "Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony, accompanied by her father, John Wohlfeil, organist of the church.

For the candlelight service the bride wore white marquisette over satin, made with an off-the-shoulder neckline, a sheer yoke and fingertip sleeves. The full hoop skirt swept into a long train, and her veil was fingertip in length. Her bouquet was of white roses and lily of the valley and she wore a triple strand of pearls, the gift of the bride-

Ronald Glenn is the name of the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koelper of Arlington Heights. Ronald was born June 30 at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, and weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces. He has a seven-year-old brother, Lee. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Meier of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Herman Koelper of Mt. Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rose of Arlington Heights are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a third daughter, Susan Kay, June 29 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. She weighed 7 pounds, 9 ounces. Her two red-headed sisters are eight-year-old Marilyn and 12-year-old Jeanne.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Drevas are the proud parents of their first child, a daughter named Janice born June 27. She is now at home in Des Plaines. The Drevas formerly lived at 134 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Carr of Arlington Heights welcomed their third child and second daughter, Victoria Jane, born June 30 at Presbyterian hospital, Chicago.

A daughter, Mary Jane, was born June 29 to Mr. and Mrs. George Landis of Glenview. The baby who weighed 6 pounds, 15 ounces, was born at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. Mrs. Landis is the former Frances Simon of Arlington Heights.

As ushers.

Joseph Krejci of St. Joseph was best man, with Harris Kijak, brother of the bride, Albert Schmidt of Kansas City and Henry Kasischeke of St. Joseph as ushers.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Labor temple, with close to 250 guests present. The couple is at home in Elgin. June 17 also marked the 26th anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.

Palatine girl married in London, Ont., Canada

The church of St. John the Evangelist, London, Ontario, Canada, was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Marian Eunice Birks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egerton E. Birks of Palatine, and Frederick William Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric E. Thompson of Ottawa, Canada.

Canon Clarence Foreman officiated. Ivor Brake was at the organ and Robert Birks was soloist. The bride, who entered the church with her father, was gowned in white chantilly lace over satin, with tiers of nylon net in front, from waist to the hem of the skirt. It was styled with long sleeves, and her veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace, with back band of orange blossoms. She carried a hand bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Keyes was maid of honor, wearing powder blue nylon net over taffeta, with a wreath of pink roses and blue forget-me-nots in a pearl-studded tiara of blue lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Pauline Tomlin, Miss Sazz Wells, Miss Beatrice Tomlin and Mrs. Sylvia Birks, sister-in-law of the bride, of Downers Grove, wore gowns of forsythia yellow nylon net over taffeta, with tiaras of yellow lace with pearls.

The flower girl, Miss Mary Jane Trudell, wore a baby blue dress of nylon net over taffeta, and carried a blue satin basket holding pink roses and forget-me-nots.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sander of Smith st., Palatine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris Arlene, to Henry Hajek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hajek of Wood st., Palatine.

Jack Randall, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Nawrot of Arlington Heights, was christened Sunday at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church by Rev. L. V. Stephan.

Sponsors were Mrs. Betty Stoeckel of Evergreen Park, Erling Behrens of Arlington Heights and Edward Nawrot of Palatine.

A family dinner for sponsors and relatives was given following the ceremony.

The Newcomers club of Arlington Heights, has chosen Saturday, July 29, for their picnic to be held at Deer Grove. It will get underway at five o'clock with festivities to continue until about eleven.

'33 club' night at OES brings many visitors here

On June 22 Arlington Heights Chapter No. 992 OES had "33 Club" members as guest officers. The meeting was at the Presbyterian church.

The president of the club, Myrtle L. Frey, a grand lecturer, and Donald Hartman, a member, were guest worthy matron and patron.

Other officers were Dorothy Hauff, associate matron; Nelson Hauff, a P. P. of Arlington, associate patron; Caroline Conorse, Wilmette chapter, grand lecturer; secretary, Helen Hanan, Park Ridge chapter, grand lecturer; treasurer, Inez Sharp, conductress; Winifred Jones, associate conductress; Celia Hausam, grand lecturer, chaplain; Lydia Hausam, marshal; Helen Stark of Edison Park, grand lecturer, organist.

Evelyn Klein, Adah; Helen Berg of Majestic chapter, grand lecturer; Ruth; Katherine Newberg, Esther; Alma Paepke, a member of Entre Nous Girls' club of Lakewood chapter; Martha Gertrude Schroeder, Electa; Dorothy Palmer of Kenmore chapter, grand lecturer, warder; William Milligan, sentinel of the chapter, sentinel; Burkitt Davis, color bearer; Rose Krivanek of Bohemia chapter, soloist.

One of the outstanding guests of the evening was Rita Johnson, associate grand conductress of the grand chapter of the order of the Eastern Star of the State of Illinois, who was the guest of honor.

Many visitors were present representing neighboring chapters of Palatine, Wilmette, Irving Park, Lakeview, Adelphi, Equality, Algonquin, Kenmore, Majestic, Greencastle, Ind., Glenview and Arcadia, Calif.

The bridal march was played when Della Crane, a loyal and faithful worker, was escorted to the East and presented a bridal bouquet in honor of her 25th wedding anniversary.

The soloist, a special friend of the president, rendered lovely songs to the honored guests in the East. The evening was a delightful one and a donation of money was presented to the chapter from the club. Another donation of $100 was made to the Century club. A social hour followed in the dining room.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Arlington Heights, it seems, provided just about everything any one could desire in the way of Independence day celebrating, and so villagers took advantage of the fact and stayed home. They not only had a good time — just as good as they could have anywhere else — but they were a whole lot safer, considering the number of serious traffic accidents over the holiday.

Did they want to swim? The pool at Recreation park was the answer there, and it did a capacity business over the week end. Not only did regular season ticket holders make use of it, but so did many who bought their way in on a single admission basis.

Did Arlington people want to go to the races? Arlington Park, of course is right in the back yard, so to speak, and many could even walk over to watch the running of the Stars and Stripes and avoid the parking and congestion problem.

And how about an old-fashioned patriotic celebration? Tuesday afternoon's was tops, under the sponsorship of Merle Guild Post of the American Legion. Headlining a talk by State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Vernon L. Nickell, the meeting drew a tremendous crowd to the park.

Picnics? Yes, indeed, backyards were probably the most popular spot for such doings, with many a charcoal grill in evidence and amateur chef in action. Those who preferred the woods for their picnicking had a choice of Busse grove and Deer grove, both close at hand and within relatively uncongested driving distance.

A concert in the park? That, too, was on the program. The evening of the Fourth was chosen by F. C. Schroyer and members of his summer band—made up of both adults and high schoolers—to play their first program of the season, and they obliged with selections familiar to all.

Carnival, of course, was a high spot, and every one, it seemed, made at least one trip down the midway. An innovation this year was the CTA miniature street car for the kiddies, replacing the more usual train.

No Independence day celebration would be complete without a fireworks display of large proportion. Here again the Legion came through and provided a fine show for the townspeople. Because they had promised a bigger-than-ever ground display, the park was jammed to capacity. Those who couldn't get in, however could at least see the aerial displays from a goodly distance away.

Yes, people of Arlington Heights could relax Tuesday night and sit back and listen calmly to those radio reports that this highway or that highway was creating a bottleneck. They knew better—they had stayed Lutheran old folks home on Northwest highway is all sicked up this week in preparation for their annual festival

A highlight of the day will be the showing of plans for the proposed new building of the home. Refreshment booths will take care of lunch for the hungry crowd, and guests are invited to come and spend the day.

Mrs. Prellberg's Friday bridge club also honored her recently at the home of Mrs. Herbert Reinshagen in Palatine. They presented her with a piece of silver.

Last week Tuesday Mrs. Alfred R. Jasper had as luncheon guests Mrs. Theodore Thorson of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. Stanley G. Rodine and Shirley and Bobby of Chicago and her two daughters, Mrs. Walter Harz and Mrs. Otto A. Miers, Jr., and children.

In San Francisco
Leonard Thake has left for San Francisco to attend a sales convention. While there he hopes to look up old friends formerly of Arlington Heights.

Miss Joan Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chamberlain of Palatine, became the bride of Robert Sander, son of the Anton Sanders of Wheeling, Saturday at the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church, Palatine. Rev. Wilbur Koester performed the 6 p. m. ceremony before an altar decorated with white carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown trimmed in chintilly lace. She wore a crown of pearls on her head, also trimmed with lace. Her flowers were white roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Clocko, wore a pale green gown with lace bodice and chiffon skirt. Her chiffon headpiece matched the gown, and she carried talisman roses. Miss Rita Neilson and Miss Joanne Jessee were bridesmaids, and they wore pink and yellow gowns, respectively, with bouquets of roses of the same color. Rosemary Sander was the flower girl, made up of both adults and high schoolers—to play their first program of the season, and they obliged with selections familiar to all.

Richard Chamberlain, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mr. Liemer was the organist.

Richard Sander was best man with Don Kelper and Larry Kissner as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 250 guests was held at Fred's Community hall, Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Nerge and Mrs. Mamie Nelson served a buffet supper.

The newlyweds are traveling in Wisconsin and will be at home at 104 E. Wood st., Palatine, July 10.

FAVORITES

For FLAVOR

by MARILYN McLENNAN
Attention tea and cookie lovers!

As English as "cheerio" and the famous London Tower are these delectable tea cookies featured today.

Goosnargh cookies, a light, rich cookie interestingly flavored with caraway seeds are contributed by Mrs. Alvin Kulieke of 303 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights.

"This cookie recipe was given to me by my mother, and has been in our family for generations," said Mrs. Kulieke. "They originated in the town of Goosnargh, Lancashire, England. Grandmother brought the recipe with her in 1883 when she came to the United States. It is an original family recipe and was made and sold by my ancestors for many years," she explained.

This homemaker also gives us her favorite chile sauce recipe. Its surprise ingredient is chopped apples which add to its pleasing flavor. Tuck this one away till tomato season — then see if it doesn't become a favorite in your family.

English (Goosnargh) Cookies
1 pound unsalted butter
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
2/3 cup granulated sugar
4-1/2 cups all purpose flour, sifted

Combine softened butter, caraway seeds and granulated sugar. Mix well and gradually add the sifted flour.

Shape into a roll and place in refrigerator. When ready for use cut off a little dough at a time and roll out to about one-fourth of an inch in thickness. Use a small cookie cutter to cut out cookies.

Sprinkle with a heavy thickness of (fine) granulated sugar and bake in a moderate oven till very light brown. The sugar for the topping must be very fine granulated, not confectioners.

Yield: 3-3 1/2 dozen cookies.

Chile Sauce
1/2 peck ripe tomatoes, skinned
4 onions chopped fine
1 red pepper
1/2 dozen apples
2 cups sugar
2 cups vinegar
2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons ground cloves
Skin tomatoes. Put onions, pepper and apples through food chopper and simmer with tomatoes, sugar, vinegar and seasonings for two hours. Then pour into sterile jars and seal.

Corn Borer Control
Cornstalks need to be plowed under without leaving any trash above ground in order to obtain control of the European corn borer.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

WE think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There is the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a toe-touch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflo-cushioned take-off—

Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this:

That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

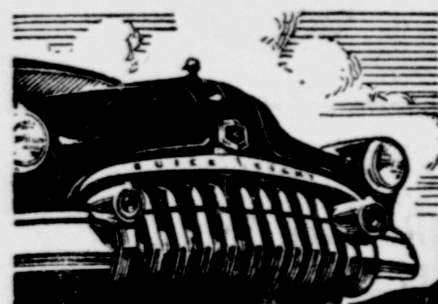

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROADMASTER your choice over any other car:

Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflo Drive standard. A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double bubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

In the Shadow of THE IRON CURTAIN

(The following article was written by IAA President Charles B. Shuman, for the IAA RECORD, while on a recent tour of Europe as the American Farm Bureau Federation's representative to an international Federation of Agricultural Producers meeting. He and Mrs. Shuman have since returned home. Paddock Publications thought it was timely enough to warrant this week's edition.)

AS WE APPROACHED the city in the shadow of the Iron Curtain—Helsinki, Finland—I will admit having a certain feeling of nervousness. However, our Swedish pilot knew the way and we were not challenged by the patrol planes as we carefully avoided the Russian border.

Later, we stood within 50 yards of a heavily guarded Finnish frontier post and looked over the border line of freedom.

After the wonderful welcome and spirit of good will and friendliness expressed everywhere by our English, Danish, Finnish, and Swedish hosts, it was a new experience to look across the border into the forbidden land where Illinois farmers are not wanted.

We had recently made hundreds of new friends among the farm organization leaders from the 25 non-communist nations represented at the International Federation of Agricultural Producers conference. We had learned to know the farmers of northern Europe by living in their homes, eating with their families, walking over their fields, inspecting their barns and playing with their children.

AND NOW, 570 MILES from Moscow, we faced the muzzles of hidden Soviet guns and heard the distant explosions of dynamite blasting for new fortifications. It was a new and discouraging experience.

My thoughts turned back to recent weeks. Everywhere we had found that farm people have much in common with our American farmers. They may speak a strange language, eat different foods or have lower incomes, but they cherish the same ideals that we hold supreme.

We found them to be proud of the occupation of farming and striving constantly to improve rural living conditions and the opportunities for their children.

Above all, the farmers of Europe want peace in the world. As I looked at the Russian flag with its hammer and sickle on the field of blood, and thought of their hatred for America, I remember the countless expressions of love that we had experienced throughout our travels.

I THOUGHT OF THE English chambermaid in the cold, cold house "where Queen Elizabeth slept" as she said, "You come from America. It is more merry there."

There was the little Danish farm girl in her broken English saying, "We like America!" And the Crown Prince of Sweden with his cordial message to be relayed to the Illinois farmers of Scandinavian ancestry.

Then I thought of the most heart-touching incident of our trip: the young and beautiful wife of a Finnish agricultural college graduate who rode her only means of travel, a bicycle, for 15 dusty miles to purchase a small American flag to place on her table as a welcome for two farmers far from home.

As we turned and drove away from the Iron Curtain, I whispered a prayer of thankfulness that I was born in America. May God help us in some way to dissolve this barrier so that all the people of the world can live in peace and freedom!

Barrington cops 3-2 decision over Palatine

Barrington won a close 3-2 decision over Palatine Friday in a New Six League game at Barrington. Osinski batted .333 in a pitching duel in which each allowed four hits. Barrington won because Palatine made errors twice to allow runs to score. One run was earned on Osinski's homer. One Palatine run was walked in and the other came on a four base walkoff by Jarvis, the Pirate hurler, who got two of their four hits. Jarvis and Osinski both fanned nine batters.

Marengo on heels of league leaders

Marengo retained second place in the New Six League and is assured of a playoff berth with a 5-2 record by beating Hebron Friday 8-2. Dave Miller scattered eight Hebron hits but was given poor support as his mates earned five times. Marengo's nine hits were bunched for three runs in the first and four in the sixth.

Woodstock beats Elgin nine, 7-3

Woodstock bunched nine hits to register their fourth win in six starts by a 7-3 victory over Elgin. It helped Woodstock to stay on the heels of Marengo in the race for second place and a chance to tie Barrington for the championship. Except for the third inning when Elgin scored three runs, Dermont of Woodstock had the watch city team well under control.

Palatine cinches last but Coach not discouraged

Friday's game between Barrington and Marengo will decide the New Six baseball championship. A victory for the Bronchos will virtually sew up the race. A win for Marengo would temporarily give them a tie but they would still have to beat Woodstock and Elgin to earn a share of the title. For Marengo to win these three in a row seems highly improbable.

The location of the four team playoff tournament has not been set. At this time it appears that probably Barrington will meet Woodstock and Marengo engage Elgin but only the results of the next games can tell the pairings. The champ plays the 4th place team while 2nd and 3rd clash. If the Elgin lighted field is available the tournament will likely be held there.

Hebron beat Palatine in a clash for the last place Monday but Coach Bailey is not discouraged about his boys. Palatine did not expect to win many games and went into the summer league with the hope of building up baseball interest and giving the boys needed experience. The close results, 3-2 with Barrington, and 2-1 with Hebron in the last two games indicates that the team is improving and will not be the last place club of the Northwest Conference next Spring.

PALATINE LOST to Hebron, 2-1, Monday night in a New Six League baseball game when the defense collapsed in the third inning to commit three errors and allow the scoring of two runs. Dan Day, pitching his first varsity game, allowed Hebron only two hits. Palatine got four hits off Wiersma including singles by Kolze, Sievers, and Herrmann, and a triple by Zoellick.

Palatine's team was made up of two freshmen, five sophomores, a junior and a senior. Palatine and Hebron were tied for last place prior to this game with one victory apiece.

Barrington won a tight 3-2 decision at Woodstock July 4 to retain undisputed first place in the New Six League. Both teams got only two hits in a hurling duel between Osinski of the Bronchos and McCann of Woodstock. Two errors by Woodstock provided the difference in the two teams.

Mt. Prospect AC nine cops two more games

Mt. Prospect A.C. won their tenth straight game Saturday night when they downed the Evanston Rams at Evanston by a score of 9-8. Mel Krueger pitched another good game and was given very good fielding support by infield and outfield. Marv Anderson led the hitters with 4 hits in 4 tries.

Thursday, June 29, at Palatine, the A.C. kept their league victory string in tact when they again trounced the Prospect Heights team 19-2. Bill Wille pitched this game and allowed only three hits while striking out ten.

Lou Haake had two doubles and a triple and Bill Wille had two singles and triple to lead the hitting. The league standing of the Mt. Prospect team in the Palatine League is 7 wins and no losses.

Coming games:
Tuesday, July 11, at Palatine, 9 p.m., Fox Cleaners.
Thursday, July 13, at Palatine, 7:45 p.m., Riviera.
Sunday, July 16, at Mt. Prospect, 2 p.m., Evanston Rams.

FINAL 1ST ROUND
Riviera vs. El Rando, Thursday, July 6.

Tonight's (Thursday) clash between Riviera and El Rando will bring down the curtain of the first round in the Arlington Heights softball loop. If Riviera can humble their chief competition in the game tonight, they will be crowned undisputed champs for the first round. However, if the El Rando lads should triumph, they will keep alive their slim mathematical chance to annex the championship.

The league this year is not as fast as in former years because of the break-up of the Wheeling Cardinals and Rose-Le Inn, both outstanding outfits. Because of the loss of these two fine teams, the softball loop has become better balanced and stiffer competition is now afforded between the squads still in the league.

El Rando tops Flaherty
In the only game this week El Rando aided Flaherty's cellar plight in handing out a 9-2 lacing. They found Len Bokalar for only 5 hits but 4 Flaherty errors aided El Rando's venture. Jim Geisler pitched for El Rando.

The Riviera's ball club played only one game in the Arlington League last week and won from Webber Paints in a well played game by a score of 5-3. Hits were made by Chervenak, Mayerk, Firnbach, and Nick, the pitcher, who also allowed four hits.

Big crowds see holiday racing at Arlington Park

by TOM HART

Large crowds witnessed the racing at Arlington Park over the July 4th week end and saw plenty of thrilling races during the three days of holiday racing. Saturday, a crowd of over 21,000 people witnessed the running of the Myrtlewood handicap which was won by the sensational Myrtle Charm in near track record time. Then followed an even greater crowd of over 25,000 fans who saw the colt Rough N' Tumble surprise the wise ones and walk off with the Primer Stakes also in close to record time. And with a payoff of $51 on Monday the big week end of racing was off to a great start.

With perfect weather for the big July 4 program, Arlington Park was again host to one of its famous July 4th crowds who got plenty of thrills as the three year old Oil Capitol won the historic Equipoise Mile.

THE WEEK END of racing featured the two largest daily crowds of the meeting when over $800 was the double prize on Saturday followed on the 4th by one for over $600.

Not only were regular race fans in attendance during the three big days, but thousands of vacationists took advantage of the holiday to see the fun at Arlington Park, the picture race course of America.

With the big meeting in its third week and rapidly nearing the half way mark the racing is getting keener and more hotly contested as the meeting progresses.

This week's racing will be featured by the Arlington Lassie stakes on Saturday, July 8, a race for two year old fillies at six furlongs for a purse of $25,000. This race will bring together the cream of the lady baby racers of the country and is sure to draw a stellar starting field.

NEXT WEDNESDAY the Cleopatra handicap for three year old fillies, at one mile for a $20,000 purse will be the attraction, and on Saturday, July 15, the famous Arlington Classic will be the big attraction.

This race is for three year olds for a purse of $50,000 and this feature always goes a long way in determining the year's three year old championship.

The Classic this year will have the greatest field of speedsters in many years and every top three year old in the country is expected to be at Arlington Park for the running of the historic race which will be at the derby distance of one mile and a quarter.

The entire remainder of the Arlington meeting is studded with rich stakes which will bring to Chicago and the top horses and jockeys in the country.

Groh hits safely as Redwings go on to beat Cicero, 8-3

Pete Groh hit safely Sunday to keep the Arlington Redwings in the running for league honors. The locals pushed across four runs in the eighth to cinch the game against Cicero.

Gilman and Kroeber won sportsmanship awards as Heights intramural cagers

There's plenty of dust on the basketballs at Arlington Heights high school, but the mop was applied against the record book this week as final figures for the intramural leagues were published this week.

In the junior-senior division of twelve teams, Keithley nosed out Griffith by a one-game margin. The winners were unbeaten in eleven contests while Griffith five dropped a single game. The seven boys on the championship aggregation, 103 boys participating in the league, were Keithley, Huffman, Wickman, Kennedy, E. Wille, Kurtz and Gilman.

THE YEARLINGS closed their season for the seven teams with Ragland suffering but one defeat in 12 contests. Schmidt with 179 points, sinking 21 of 47 free throws, and 79 field goals. Griffith was second with 66 from the court and 28 of 63 charities.

Walter Schuler was tops for the frosh-sops with 112 points while Bob Kostka dropped in 101.

SPORTSMANSHIP awards went to Doug Gilman in the senior loop while Don Kroeber ranked tops in the younger group.

Barrington Bears and the Libertyville Comets tied for the leadership of the Illinois softball league the past week as the former triumphed twice and the latter scored a singleton victory. Each team has a 7-3 record slightly better than that of the Oak Park Zephyrs who boast of a 6-3 mark.

Barrington who travels to Libertyville for an important league tussle next Wednesday scored a 11-1 triumph over Oak Park and a 6-1 decision over Des Plaines. Libertyville nipped the Northbrook Hawks, 4-1, and Oak Park also edged Northbrook, 12-11.

Barrington's Harry Beyer has taken over the leadership in batting with a .378 mark. Oak Park's Mikelush with a 3-0 pitching record leads the league in that department.

Long Waddle . . . . . By Julia W. Wolfe

ONCE when water was plentiful in New York City and when people thought of it only as part of the landscape in parks, a couple of wild ducks built a nest on the northern side of a boating pond in the middle of Central Park. Even when there is plenty of water, this is no place for a mother duck to bring up a family. On spring and summer days, gasoline launches chug around the lake and boys and girls paddle tiny boats here and there, some of them even play near the water. But in due time, eight timid little ducklings were hatched. Not until after they appeared on the scene did Mother Duck get the right slant on her new home. It was a bad neighborhood, she decided. She simply would have to move. And, since Papa Duck was elsewhere at the time, she did everything herself. Nearly a mile away from the boating pond was another little pool of water, enclosed with a fence of wire-netting to protect a number of beautiful swans and other kinds of water fowl. Raising a bird family was not at all uncommon here, and the Mother Swans and Mother Ducks have succeeded.

But our particular Mother Duck had a problem. Her young children were too young to fly. But they had legs, and she had confidence. So a straggling, downy line formed on the bank of the boating pond and started to waddle across the broad, circular esplanade. In the center of this was a splashing fountain. (Of course, this was before water got scarce.) People who were watching the fountain were suddenly astounded by the parade of ducks right past the water.

So the men and women, boys and girls, joined in the parade. Mother Duck looked around behind her and began to wonder if her family had increased. (Mother Ducks never went to school, so they can't count, but her family certainly looked larger to her.) Beyond the fountain is a great arch in which is an ice cream and sandwich restaurant. People deserted sandwiches and malted milks and Mother Duck's entourage was very great indeed. Beyond this was a merry-go-round, which also became deserted as the parade waded on. She went up two long flights of stairs beyond the restaurant and merry-go-round, but Mother Duck led her eight bundles of fluffiness and long file of boys and girls, men and women upward. There were reached the top. Suddenly Mother Duck saw men in blue surging all around. The police department, always on the lookout for things unusual, had sent a special detachment to see about the crowd. DOWN the mall the mother waddled, while her children commented excitedly in duck language, twisting their heads at the wonderful sights and at the attention they were getting.

True or False?
Decide whether each of the following statements is true or false:
1. An ellipse is not the same curve as an oval.
2. In a moon eclipse, the earth comes between the sun and moon.
3. Not all deer meat is venison.
4. Air is a very poor conductor of heat.

Find the right starting point, then use every letter either up, down, backward or forward (but never diagonally), and you will spell out nine important rivers of the world:

Triangle Puzzle
The picture shows part of Grandma's patchwork quilt. Look at it and guess how many different triangles there are. A triangle may be any one pattern or a combination of patterns. Here's a suggestion: Try grandma on this puzzle.

Puzzle Answers

TRIANGLE: ICEBERG, CORRAL, ERROR, BROW, EAR, RL, G

RIVER SQUARE: Missouri; Danube; Volga; Amazon; Thames; Seine; Yellow; Po; Nile.

TRUE OR FALSE?: 1—False (same curve). 2—True. 3—False (all venison). 4—True.

ADD-A-LETTER: Ro, roe, rode, rodeo.

Give A New Look to Your Old Chairs

New life for this ugly old chair begins with regluing creaky joints and placing chair in clamps to dry. Then put on a pillow case type cover of sturdy fabric.

Next step is anchoring a layer of cotton batting to rough cover. Then pin new fabric to padded chair frame, cut to size and baste with wetting between layers as shown above. Tacking flounce to chair frame, after seat is unscrewed, is shown at left. Ruffle can be made by shirring on machine or crimping in with tacks.

Uncomfortable, ugly chairs get a new lease on life with very little effort, time and money. The approved American Home Magazine remedy requires only tacks, upholstery needle, thread, wetting, cotton batting and gay material. Scrap material (muslin, a worn bed pad or sheet) can be used as foundation for sewing batting. A set of four chairs can be done on less than $8 (including 10 yards of new material).

Campus Capers

At Evanston

Betty Filloon, 125 Colfax, Palatine; Gloria Dinse, 322 N. Bothwell, Palatine; Esther Lindholm, Maple rd., Palatine; Alice Boyland, 600 W. Lincoln, Mt. Prospect; and Vivian Sprandel, 170 Center st., Bensenville, are all studying at the National College of Education this summer. The college, located in Evanston, prepares teachers for the elementary field of education and grants the bachelor of education degree.

In Virginia

Among 950 Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps midshipmen from 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation arriving July 8 at the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Va., to begin an intensive two-week training course is P. E. Ransdell of 1010 North Chicago ave., Arlington Heights, a third year student this fall at the University of Illinois, Urbana.

His training will consist of instructions ashore and afloat in amphibious operations. During the first week, devoted to shore training, he will learn through practical work, lectures and demonstrations, the essentials of preparing a successful amphibious landing.

To climax his training he will take part in a full-dress assault landing employing sea-air support and Marine Corps Reserve troops.

At DeKalb

Final registration figures for the summer session at Northern Illinois State Teachers college reached the 850 mark at the close of the late registration period, according to Edith Leifheit, registrar. There are 398 men and 452 women in this "on-campus" count.

Let us satisfy our own consciences, and trouble not ourselves by looking for fame. If we deserve it, we shall attain it; if we deserve it not we cannot force it.

The modern way to take the "itch" out of the old swimmin' hole! Below are suggested remedies if one of these poisoners threatens to ruin your summer.

Full program at Scout jamboree at Valley Forge

President Harry S. Truman, honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, officially opened the Scout jamboree last Friday at Valley Forge, Penn. Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, who invited the Scouts to meet there, also welcomed them and inspected the camp.

Scouts from every state, Alaska, Hawaii and the Canal zone, as well as many foreign countries, are participating in the full program which hardly leaves a spare minute for the boys.

Campers are equipped to carry out their own program. Each patrol brought its own equipment, and do their own cooking, after drawing food from the commissary. Every one shares in the activities, both duties and pleasures. There have been displays of skills, campfires, Scout-in and near Philadelphia. A popular pastime for the Scouts is swapping. They have Included in the group at the jamboree are Dick McAuliffe of Arlington Heights, Stan Meyer of Mt. Prospect and Brooks Ambos of Palatine.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD!

Official census figures released recently to Paddock Publications bore out the editor's contention that:

IN EVERY TOWN SERVED by Paddock Publications MORE PAPERS ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED THAN THERE ARE HOMES.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES that tell the tale:

Arlington Heights	2624 homes	3095 papers
Wheeling	274 homes	285 papers
Mt. Prospect	1147 homes	1295 papers
Palatine	1158 homes	2260 papers
Total 4 towns	5203 homes	6935 papers

Need we say more? For top coverage and a sure way to reach every home advertising in any one of the seven Paddock Publications is the logical answer.

Want Ads Wed. 10 a.m.

1831
First home financed by America's first specialized savings and loan association, Frankford, Pa.

WHY
SAVING IS IMPORTANT TO YOU!

1950
One of the 763,000 modern homes financed last year by present day specialized associations.

INCOME PLUS SECURITY FOR YOU

On July 1st our Savers again shared liberal earnings which total $46,398.92 for the past six month period . . . earnings which have now been paid or credited to accounts. As a specialized savings association we now safeguard over $4,130,000.00 for folks who wish the security of having a "financial backlog" . . . and income.

HOMES FOR OUR COMMUNITY

Savers like you have enabled us to advance a total of $5,416,000.00 in home loan credit to 816 local families during the last ten years! These borrowers return the funds to us in easy monthly installments. Currently we have $4,000,000.00 in loans outstanding to the home buyers of this community . . . (see Mortgage Loans in statement).

STABILITY FOR OUR CITY

By encouraging thrift and sponsoring home ownership, we start an important flow of money . . . that means jobs and income for hundreds of families. The dollar paid to a carpenter may be used to pay the grocer—the grocer in turn uses that same dollar to pay a doctor bill . . . and so indirectly we help make this city a better, more stable place in which to live.

● SINCE 1831, when a handful of citizens formed America's first specialized savings association and financed their first home, associations such as ours have grown in number, value and popularity. In 1949 alone, nationally a combined total of $273,000,000 in earnings was paid to savers while financing 763,000 modern homes!

You are most cordially invited to come in and open your profit-earning SAVINGS ACCOUNT . . . or start owning with the help of a monthly repayable HOME LOAN.

Hotel college

Richard E. Koeritz, of Arlington Heights, has recently received his A. A. Degree in Resort-hotel Management from Paul Smith's College of Arts and Sciences, Paul Smiths, New York.

Besides being an honor roll student—having maintained an "A" average for the year—Dick has also received outstanding recognition in sports and leadership. He is a member of the Eastern Amateur Ski Association and has, by the college, been awarded the Athletic Key for Cross Country and the Varsity Certificate for Tennis. He was also presented with a gold key for his service as Business Manager of the school paper.

He will return next fall for post-graduate work at Paul Smith's College and then has planned to transfer to New Hampshire to complete his study for a B. A. Degree in Hotel Management.

Being active in extra curricular activities, Dick has been appointed as chairman of the Freshmen Orientation Week program for next fall and has been elected president of the Outing club. The Resort-Hotel Management Department has also elected him to serve on the Board of Directors for the Paul Smith's Hotel.

Dick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Koeritz who reside at 905 N. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights.

National crow shoot at Vandalia end of July

Illinois will entertain the National Crow Shoot this year at Vandalia July 28-29-30. It is expected that shooters from practically every state in the Union will be present to compete and test their skill against the canniness of our Illinois crows which some of us think are maybe just a little smarter than those of other states.

Most every hunter at some time or other takes a shot at a crow, for every man's hand is against this worthless predator. Very few farmers have any objection to a hunter who wants to shoot crows so the crow shooter is usually welcomed with open arms. Even though he is mercilessly hunted, destroyed by every weapon man has devised except the atom bomb, the crow has shown an uncanny ability to survive and even increase.

All crow shooters are invited to participate in the national shoot. The registration fee is $5.00 and entries may be mailed to Dr. J. G. Davis, RFD 1, Liberty, Penn., or upon arrival at Vandalia. Headquarters will be at Burtchi's Lake about 2½ miles southwest of Vandalia. The shooters will be placed in blinds along the Kaskaskia River bottoms.

The champion crow shooter will be selected Saturday, the 28th, and the championship crow calling contest will be held Sunday, the 29th. The crow shooter are allowed to use any type crow call or decoy they wish. Visitors are invited.

National sales up

The sales of National Tea Co for the four weeks ending July 17 amounted to $23,052,759, a compared with $20,663,361 for the corresponding period of 1949 an increase of 11.55%.

Sales for the year to date amounted to $136,970,520, as compared with $125,213,715 in 1949 an increase of 9.39%.

The number of stores in operation decreased from 658 in 1949 to 646 at June 17.

Arlington buys house for village hall; installs gasoline street lights

Civic pride was just as much in evidence in Arlington Heights sixty years ago as it is today. Credit for saving the railroad parks for public use can go to such men as the late Dr. J. E. Best, and others who raised the original funds for landscaping.

Coal sheds, grain elevators, and even lumber yards of the earlier day have all been moved off. Some of them were as late as 20 years ago.

Arlington's "front yard" is what it is today because of the foresight of civic leaders of yesterday.

The present R. R. depot, an antique it may be called, was a show place when it was built in 1893, the year that the present railroad parks got their start.

The period of 1893 to 1895 are covered in this week's installment.

Members of Arlington Heights village board back in 1892 were a tenacious bunch and conserved the public money. When it became evident that the south part of Seward street would not be donated by the various owners, the board set a price of $150 for the 33 feet that would be taken from each tract.

The offer was made in July. Efforts to get the village to raise its bid came to naught and finally all of the owners accepted amount offered. The village was just as long in checking abstracts and deeds before the deals were finally closed.

AFTER FIVE years meeting in the Taege and Siemrore halls, the board decided that the time had come to own its own hall. Three sites were offered, including a 132x132 owned by Dr. Best for $3200; 66x132 owned by Aug. Kelling; and a piece now occupied by the east half of the present village hall, owned by Henry Lutjghe whose price of $1300 was cut to $1250 to close the deal.

The land upon it had a two story house in questionable condition. The village spent some money for alterations on the first floor to make it suitable for meeting. Rent free for a room on the second floor was given to the man who promised to keep the place clean.

THE BOARD received an estimate of $500 to raise the building and install jail cells in the basement. Instead the board spent $200 for two used cells, 5x7 and 6x7. The building and grounds committee was given authority to buy four comforters to keep prisoners from freezing to death. There was no heat for the cells.

With a village hall only used on monthly meeting nights, requests began to arrive from organizations who desired to rent council chambers.

The board of education and Highway Commissioners were given leases at $15 a year. The police magistrate was given free use of the hall.

The only entrance to the jail was through the council chamber and renters understood that their meetings might be interrupted at any time if a drunk had to be given a night's lodging.

When the first section of the present village hall was built in 1913 the wooden building was sold and moved to 925 N. Dunton, where it is owned and occupied today by Dorothy Revenaugh.

A CRIME WAVE evidently reared its head in the winter of 1893-94 and a Citizen's Protective Association was formed, which petitioned the village board to appoint two men as night police officers. The board filed the petition but did provide one man.

The street commissioner did not have much work to do during the winter and he was transferred from day work to night police duty.

With the laying of the second railroad track in 1893 an improvement wave hit the town. The village board was told that the town would be decorated for Memorial Day, but there was no village flag. Expenditure of $30 was authorized for that purpose.

With each picnic license issued the tavern keepers took turns moving their license to the picnic grove. Sunday picnics were barred for a time.

PEDESTRIANS who wanted to go calling after dark on moonless nights had to carry lanterns. The introduction of a municipal electric lighting plant was talked about until it was learned that a plant for street lighting would cost not less than $6,000. The firms interested got tired of the village trustees "passing the buck" and demanded that a definite vote be taken to learn if the village was interested.

The village settled on gasoline lamps set on wooden posts and ordered the first fifty such lights in November 1893. The lights were owned and serviced by a Chicago Co. which received $14 per year per light for 18 nights service each month.

It was not long before residents of non-lighted areas began asking for lights and the number grew to 125.

WITH LANDSCAPING of the park the citizens committee with Dr. J. E. Best, Henry Klehm and Wm. Gardner, superintendent of the Wisconsin Div. of the Northwestern R. R. asked that an ordinance be passed establishing a fine for anyone who trespassed on the park lawn.

The brick block on west side of Dunton, north of Campbell was elevated because of drainage. The Wm. Battermann

Early street lighter finds job does not pay his living expenses

Henry Winkelmann, 82, 219 S. Evergreen says that he filled and lighted 125 gasoline street lamps in Arlington for 2 1/2 years and was $90 poorer when he got through than when he started. "It was the worst job I ever had," says Winkelmann.

The lights were owned and maintained at cost by a Chicago firm which paid him $40 a month.

Mr. Winkelmann bought a horse and cart for $40 from the man who previously had the job. He paid $50 a month for rent of the barn for the horse and $6 a month for horse feed.

He only worked the 20 days each month that there was no supposed to be moonlight in the evening. It took him three hours each trip. In the morning he filled the tanks. In the evening he turned them on, using a blow torch to heat each burner. "The light," states Mr. Winkelmann, "was about equal to a regular match."

The light burned as long as the fuel lasted, which was about midnight. If it went out before the arrival of the midnight train, the village held up the bills of the company.

Mr. Winkelmann came to Arlington Heights from Addison, married Miss Dora Hildebrandt, with whom he has spent 55 years of married life. They have 8 children, 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

He was a farm laborer before his marriage, receiving in addition to his board and room $120 a year.

When he retired he had worked 45 years for Arlington Seating Co.

(Gieseke's store) and the Bur-kitt jewelry store were in similar position. The board forced owners to lower their sidewalks to grade which in turn required owners to erect stairways to reach the stores.

The same committee was successful in getting the village to spend $100 for a windmill to pump water into a tank at rear of depot in order to water the new lawns.

John Proctor offered to pay the village $1.50 a year for the privilege of cutting grass in the parks.

DR. BEST asked the village to pay part of the cost of drill of the railroad park. Village attorney said it would not be legal to use public money to improve private property. (Next week Arlington Heights buys a fire engine and organizes a volunteer fire department)

TALES of the STREET

-T. C. HART

SMOOTH OPERATOR

A fellow who has left a stream in all over Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan dropped into Palatine a while back long enough to lay one of his worthless eggs on a local business man for $28.00 and then moved on.

He posed as a representative of the New York Central railroad freight check made out to cash and signed by himself as a representative of that railroad. The check was not a company check but one of those counter checks where you type in the name of the bank. This check was drawn on a Chicago bank.

The fellow was a short, well dressed man and a good talker and put up a good front. He showed credentials that supposedly identified him as what he represented himself to be, these too, of course, were as phony as the check.

When the check bounced back marked "No Account" the local businessman called the railroad. They had no record of any such person, then he called the bank and got some surprising information. This man had cashed over a thousand of those checks in the central states usually for from $25.00 to $28.00, and over one hundred of them had been cashed in banks themselves. A banker's magazine carried stories of his operations, and the methods and even his picture, yet some banks fell for his smooth line.

The man was thought to be "off his nut" and had served time in an Illinois mental hospital. The FBI was hot on his trail but they hadn't caught up with him yet.

He pulled his stunt in Palatine just before closing time and another businessman talked with him as he was waiting for his bus toward Chicago. This businessman said that he was a friendly sort of fellow, a good talker and said he was with the New York Central railroad and had only four years to go for his pension, but that if he got into war and the government needed him to operate troop trains he's take off from his job and work for them the same as he had in the last war.

This lad may be "off the beam" a little, but he's a smooth operator and he might decide to double back this way. Be on the lookout for him fellows and don't get "took" if he shows up again.

NOISE

Some folks are objecting to the noise that is a part of the recreational life of Palatine. Residents in the neighborhood of the carnival grounds petitioned the village board to not allow the carnival to be held there and were quite disturbed when they found out that not one but two carnivals would be held on the same grounds. The Legion-Lions carnival this week and the Firemen's carnival next month.

The objectors were told that it was too late to do anything about the matter this year as all plans had been made and everything was ready to go. Sure these carnivals make a lot of noise, we know, we had them both almost in our back yard for many years, but they don't last long and for all the fun the people have at them and for the good deeds that are done with the money raised by the promoters, we figure it's worth the racket.

These local carnivals are a bit different from the ordinary carnivals where some professional carnival outfit comes into a town and gives the sponsoring organization a small percentage and then walks off with the big profits themselves. A lot of these professional carnivals are followed by a lot of riff raff that are out to "take the suckers" and they often cause a lot of trouble. Our local carnivals on the other hand are run by local people, the concessions, outside of the rides are locally operated and the money raised goes to good causes, such as youth activities, library support, etc. Not to mention the great job done by the firemen in erecting a building and purchasing a lot of fire-fighting equipment. Then, too, the Legion has their new home which is also a sort of community center to pay for and part of their share goes toward that.

Yes, taken all in all, it looks as if the benefits derived by the community from these annual locally managed carnivals are worth the inconvenience of a lot of noise for a few days or rather evenings. Anyway, that's the way we used to feel about it when they were operating in our back yard.

So much for the carnival noise and gaiety, but we really were surprised the other night when a uniformed police officer came up to the park and asked the director if anything could be done to tone down the public address system that announces the ball games. It seems someone had put in a complaint to the mayor and the police were investigating. Well, just how that noise can be eliminated is beyond me. They do tone down when it gets too loud, but if they try to cut out the public address system at those ball games there is going to be a roar of protest from the fans that's really going to make a noise.

People at those games like to know who's who and what's going on and any attempt to cut off that public address system is going to mean a young war.

VISITOR

Who should drop in at the softball games the other night but "Bud" Nangle, former Palatine boy and now sports editor of a DeKalb daily paper. It was the first time "Bud" had seen baseball at our park under lights and as he watched the activity he remarked, "How we'd have liked something like this when we were kids."

We told "Bud" we hadn't seen him this season out at Arlington Park, hunting for race stories, but it seems they are keeping him too busy over there at DeKalb. They have a town baseball team this year for the first time in years sponsored by the local businessmen and "Bud" is the president and general manager of that corporation. Not the team manager he explained and we said, "Oh, not the team manager, the front office guy, the big shot then," and "Bud" laughed.

Their team is going good, has some fine players and tried to arrange a game with the Arlington Red Wings, but evidently the Red Wings didn't want any part of them. They didn't even answer the DeKalb letter. "Bud" was telling about the DeKalb Hybrid softball team sponsored by the seed corn company of that name. He said softball went sour at DeKalb and people just wouldn't go to the games so the seed corn team moved to a little town of 500 population and played to 1000 or 1200 people at every game with a lot of DeKalb folks going to the games since the team moved.

The seed corn boys are all farmer boys and get no pay for their playing, but the company gives them all the seed corn they can use and pays their expenses and "Bud" says that team costs the company plenty for they travel all over, but they are fine advertising.

"Bud" is a fellow that's in love with his job as a sports editor and we look for him to go on up to the big time after he gets seasoned. He supplies Chicago papers with basketball dope during the winter tournaments in addition to his regular job. He's a guy that really found something that he likes to do and if we don't see his byline in some big league newspaper before many years have rolled around, he's aiming for bigger things.

NEW STUNT

Just when we thought that the rabbits were being sort of friendly this summer and were leaving our bean crops pretty much alone, they pull a completely new stunt on us. The plants were well grown and were starting to bloom and we had never known the rabbits to bother them at that stage, when what do the pesky things do but start eating all of the late tender leaves and even the blossoms. They have made such a wreck of the patch in the last few days that we are doubtful that we'll harvest enough beans for a mess. We had enough planted to feed a young army. Those blame rabbits just won't behave for any great length of time it seems.

AT THE TRACK

The more we see of people at a race track the more we wonder when mere man is ever going to get enough sense to stop he'll quit trying to talk his wife into a bet or a hunch bet. We have seen more family rows and spat between sweethearts started at a race track because some would-be wise male talked his lady off of some hunch bet that could be started in any other way in a blue moon.

It's surely surprising how

WHEN DO WE EAT?

The Commission has announced an examination for postmaster at the Palatine post office, pursuant to the open competitive method of selecting postmasters prescribed by the Act of Congress approved June 25, 1938.

The Commission has no appropriation for advertising, but believes that for the benefit of your own community and the Post Office Service, you will be kind enough to give the examination publicity in the columns of your newspaper to the end that adequate number of qualified persons may apply.

Weekly recipe

When "cruising down the river" or picnicking on the shore, you'll add to your holiday by having some Filled Cookies in your picnic basket. They're a welcome dessert when served with a cool glass of milk, and they're "tops" for between meal snacks. Try them soon and you'll bake them often.

Filled Cookies

2 1/4 cups dates
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 cup nuts, chopped
Combine dates, sugar and water and cook over low flame until thick, stirring constantly (about 10 minutes). Cool and add nuts.

1 cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
3 eggs
4 cups all purpose flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. soda

Method: Cream butter, add sugar and cream together. Beat eggs and add to above. Sift flour with salt and soda and add to all. Put dough in ice box to chill. Then, separate dough into two parts and roll each into rectangle one fourth inch thick. Spread cooled filling on dough and roll up and place in ice box again. When ready to use, cut in slices about 1/4 inch thick and place on well buttered cookie sheet. Bake in pre-heated oven at 400 degrees for 10 or 12 minutes.

many of those wild hunches that the ladies get pay off and every time one does and some man has talked the lady off the deal a young war breaks out that we men don't hear the last of for many, many moons.

The other day we overheard an elderly couple having a heated argument over the old, old story. She had a hunch and he was trying to talk her out of it, and the fur was flying. Finally she bet her hunch anyway and it won. "See," she gloated, "if you'd only shut up trying to talk me out of hunches we'd get along a whole lot better. Remember when you talked me off that one at Lincoln Fields," and she related to him the story of a hunch she had on a certain long shot that paid $113 and he'd talked her out of it. And we happened to remember that particular race years ago and he had been hearing about it ever since.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

On a large book shelf flanking one side of the fireplace at 116 S. Plum Grove ave., in Palatine, Mrs. George F. Gschwindt has her interesting display of elephants.

"I've elephants from all over the world in this collection," declared Mrs. Gschwindt. "I guess I've always loved those big, calm animals, and they are so majestic and stately so I started making a collection of them when I was just a child."

IT SEEMS when Mrs. Gschwindt was a young girl in Indiana she never missed a circus. "If I'd been a boy," she laughed, "I sure would have been the one that watered the elephants, as that was the part of any circus that always fascinated me."

Lined up on shelves or used as flower holders throughout the house, Mrs. Gschwindt estimates she has about 150 elephants of different types. Some of the extra-special ones are kept in her glass china cupboard in the dining room and she handled each one affectionately as she showed them to me.

Many are hand made from various woods, a special group carved from teakwood, and she has several "bridge of elephants" carefully made from ivory. She has pottery ones of all kinds including the lovable Dumbo with the big ears. Some of the animals are sitting with almost a brooding expression on their big faces—others look ready to send forth a triumphant

OPEN LETTER

Wm. Kehe, Jr., Postmaster, Palatine, Ill. Dear Mr. Kehe: Until this time any interpretation of the postal laws has been left entirely upon the local postmaster and the newspaper publisher except when an inspector arrives on the scene. We have never been able to get a written statement from the department.

Inspector Burger, who visited the Palatine postoffice this week suggested that a letter on the matter would probably be answered. Upon his criticism of two carnival advertisements which appeared in the issue of the Palatine Enterprise, June 23, the undersigned gave orders to advertising department that all such ads. be carefully edited and caused to be published the story that is attached to this page.

I recognize that it is contrary to postal laws to advertise games of chance and for over a year the words "raffle," "bingo" or "bunco" have not appeared in news stories or advertisements.

This publication and 90% of other papers of this area, in advertising carnivals at which prizes are awarded have attempted to get around the technical provision of the law by merely stating "On Display . . ." or "Features . . ." Some have just put in a picture of a car with no explanation for the reason of its appearance.

We are enclosing the two advertisements that were in error—also copies of four carnival ads. that we edited this week. We trust they meet with the interpretation of the regulations of somebody who has authority to give a written explanation.

You will admit that laws and regulations passed 60 or 70 years ago, while still in force, should be read differently today than when they were put on the books. If not, Uncle Sam has no business to use the mails to transport government licenses for slot machine operation. The Arlington Jockey Club can not use the mails to send to the State Racing Commission checks for their share of parimutuel betting.

If a local person wins the Irish, or any other sweepstakes, the winner's name appears in papers passing through the mails, but weekly papers cannot give the name of a carnival winner, or a door prize.

It is well known that coin machine manufacturers are creating machines that will be used for gambling, yet they are allowed to use the mails in the conducting of their business.

The Internal revenue department gives to the press the names and locations of places at which slot machines are in operation, which when published gives the general public information as to where they can go to gamble. There are countless other instances that could be named in which the original meaning of the postal regulations are being violated with no attempt to the post office department to stop it.

This firm is not asking for any special privilege, but is asking for a liberal interpretation of the postal regulations as far as any item, story or advertisement that might innocently appear in our publications. We will continue to "police" carnival and similar advertisements. In view of the attitude standing near the elephant cages as I never hear them just get a big thrill in watching these majestic beasts."

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

Summer is not the time for heavy reading. By that I mean one really isn't in the most receptive mood for the Great Books, is one? Nature is too distracting, I find. I've put aside Thomas Wolfe's "Of Time and The River" time and time again these last few weeks because there was a new rose in bloom in the perennial bed or because the baby cot appeared of a sudden at the top of the hill or merely because there was weeding to do.

I shall go back to Wolfe, of course, he is most provocative, but in the meantime, when I want to read a little I think I shall pick up this favorite collection called, "One Thousand Beautiful Things," compiled by Marjorie Barrons. It should be a good source for a daily exercise for spiritual betterment.

The great German poet, Goethe, once said: "I would like to read a noble poem. I would like to see a beautiful picture. I would like to hear a bit of inspiring music. I would like to meet a great soul. And for my fellow men I would like to say a few sensible words."

For my weekly letter to you this time I would like to enclose a few quotations from the above mentioned book. These will be a few of my very favorite thoughts on a summer's day. And I hope you will find pleasure in them.

"No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it to anyone else." Dickens

"He who is plentifully provided from within needs but little from without." Goethe.

"What place is so rugged and so homely that there is no beauty, if you only have a feeling for beauty?" Beecher.

"The only religion that will do anything toward enriching your life is the religion which inspires you to do something toward enriching the life of others." Anonymous.

Dirt Farmer by Arden Antony

"He finds beauty among these simple things; The path a plow makes in the rich, red loam, Gay sun-gold in ripe wheat—a plow's wings— A cow-bell, tinkling as the herd comes home."

He treads the soil, with earth-love in his heart; Watches the young crops spring from fertile ground, Loves the warm rain that makes the peach buds start, Land—and a man—in close communion bound!"

"If you observe a really happy man you will find him building a boat, writing a symphony, educating his son, growing double dahlias in his garden, or looking for dinosaur eggs in the Gobi desert. He will not be searching for happiness as if it were a collar button that has rolled under the radiator. He will not be striving for it as if it were a goal in itself, nor will he be seeking for it among the nebulous waters of metaphysics. To find happiness we must seek for it in a focus outside ourselves."

W. Beran Wolfe.

"Life is made up, not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindnesses and small obligations, given habitually, are what win and preserve the heart and secure comfort." Sir Humphry Davy.

"The Foot-Path To Peace." Henry Van Dyke.

"To be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars—to be satisfied with your possessions but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them—to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice—to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and his good manners—to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends, and every day of God; and to spend as much time as you can, with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are little guide-posts on the foot-path of peace."

"But I always think that the best way to know God is to love many things." Van Gogh.

With love, Mary.

CONTRASTS

Don't look forward too much to that possible trip to the moon in the future. According to Childcraft daytime on the moon is as hot as boiling water, and night is colder than dry ice.

Guernsey cows set records

Two registered Guernsey cows, owned by N. Sprout Heaney, Glen Ellyn, Ill., have completed official Advanced Register records that were supervised by the University of Illinois and reported to The American Guernsey Cattle Club for approval and publication.

On two times daily milking for a ten-month period, Woody Nook Gladiator's Rosetta produced 9,554 pounds of milk and 450 pounds of butterfat, starting her record as a junior 4-year-old. Rosetta is the daughter of the registered Guernsey, sire, Woody Nook Max's Gladiator, that has 8 daughters in the Performance Register.

Starting her record as a 9-year-old in the 365 day division, Lanresse Fancy produced 12,048 pounds of milk and 643 pounds of butterfat. Fancy is the daughter of the famous Guernsey sire, Max of Thorn Hill, that has twenty-five daughters in the Performance Register of The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Why Bad State Roads?

SPRINGFIELD—Motor vehicle license fees provided $42,971,637 in state revenue in 1949, but less than five millions of the amount could be applied on new highway construction, according to Charles P. Casey, director of the Department of Public Works and Buildings.

The department chief released a detailed explanation of the purposes for which the entire fund was expended for the information of the general public. He pointed out that at the prevailing level of state revenue, use of road funds for maintenance and for numerous other mandatory obligations under existing state law, leaves only a negligible amount for the actual building of highway improvements.

According to Casey's analysis, $8,760,000 went to the state treasurer for principal and interest on highway construction bond issues; $3,436,417 to the secretary of state for operation of the state automobile and operators' license department; and $3,194,668 to the Department of Public Safety to defray the cost of policing the state highway system.

When the foregoing deductions were made, about $27,430,000 was left for the Division of Highways. Here almost half of the total was consumed by the 1949 road maintenance bill which aggregated some $13,649,000, of which $315,000 came from the motor fuel tax. Approximately $1,142,000 was required for refunds to counties. Administration, engineering additions and betterments and other operating costs took another $4,664,000 and heavy patching accounted for an additional $3,351,000.

"In other words," Casey said, "out of almost $43,000,000 accruing to the state from motor license fees, we were left with less than five millions for highway construction. The only other source of state revenue for road construction is the motor fuel tax. But out of $62,408,000 collected in gasoline tax in 1949, the state's share for road construction amounted to only $17,105,000."

"Thus we received a total of about $22,000,000 in state funds for highway construction while engineering experts assert we should be spending more than $171,000,000 annually for the next decade in road construction alone if we are to keep Illinois' highway system open to traffic by rebuilding worn-out or obsolete sections and retiring the deficiencies expected to develop over that period."

Spray empty bins to control grain insects

While your grain bins are empty, you can save yourself some money by cleaning and spraying for grain insects that are waiting for this year's crop to come in.

Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes says that old grain, dirt, chaff and cobs in granary corners or floor cracks make an ideal home for grain-eating insects until their food supply is replenished next harvest time.

Your first control step, says Hughes, is a general clean-up. Sweep up corners, cracks and crevices in the granary and clear away refuse in the driveways and along the sides of the bins.

Next, spray the infested bins with deodorized kerosene containing 2 per cent DDT, or with 2 per cent chlordane, to kill the insect grain-eaters missed in the sweepings. Apply the spray at the rate of two gallons per 1,000 square feet of surface.

For best control, don't stop when you've cleaned and sprayed, says Hughes. Before you bring the first load of new grain in for storage, you can help to prevent insect infestation by making sure the moisture content is not too high. Corn, wheat, oats and barley should not exceed 13.5 per cent moisture. You can store soybeans safely when the moisture is as high as 15 per cent.

If the grain becomes infested while in the bin, your best insect control measure is fumigating with a three to one mixture of ethylene dichloride and car-

You can save tomato crop from blight

You may be able to save your tomato crop from late blight if you follow the simple rules that University of Illinois plant pathologist M. B. Linn used to predict when the disease is most likely to appear.

Essentially you need to keep your weather eye on daily rainfall and temperature. When weather conditions are just right, says Linn, late blight will spread quickly over the whole tomato crop. Rapid spreading occurs when temperatures do not rise above 70 degrees and the plants are wet from dew or rain.

This general rule for late blight has held true for virtually every outbreak of the disease. And if you catch the disease in time, you'll have saved your crop from one of the worst tomato-killers.

DON'T COUNT too much on official temperatures from weather stations to be accurate for your fields, warns Linn. Usually this reading will be either higher or lower than the air temperature around the plants. You must consider the location of your field or garden, too. If it is on high ground, good air circulation will soon evaporate any moisture from the tomato leaves and fruits. However, if you have low, sheltered spots in your plot, they may be cooler than the rest of the garden, and rain or dew will stay on longer.

You can recognize late blight, sometimes called potato blight because it attacks those plants too, from the large, irregular brown spots on the tomato leaves. It rots both green and ripe fruit. The disease can destroy a tomato planting in a few days if conditions are right, and it has been reported in one eastern state already this season.

You can control late blight by using fungicides when the disease first appears. Circular 522, The Illinois Garden Guide, has fungicide recommendations for late blight and other tomato diseases.

Here's corn borer development delay

"Reports indicate that the cool days and high winds near the lake in Northern Illinois has delayed corn borer egg laying," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "From this it would appear that any treatment of corn should begin possibly after July 1. We advise farmers to watch for egg masses on their corn plants to figure out the proper time to spray. Usually when egg masses appear, spraying should be done in about four or five days. For field corn one spraying will be most effective, for sweet corn certainly more spraying will be needed."

bon tetrachloride, called ED-CT for short.

Recommendations for fumigating with ED-CT are given in Illinois Circular 512, "How to Know and Control Stored-Grain Insects." You can get a copy from your county farm adviser or from the Agricultural Experiment Station, Urbana, Illinois.

Bossy needs cold drinks in summer, too

Maybe it isn't practical to give Old Bossy ice-cold lemonade this summer, but it is practical—and profitable—to put her in the shade and give her plenty of cool water.

C. S. Rhode of the University of Illinois dairy science department says keeping cows comfortable in summer is more important than the average dairyman realizes.

He tells of a farmer who had a field of good legume pasture and another of timber pasture with a lot of shade, but not too much for cows to eat. Rhode says the cows produced more milk when they were pastured on the legumes at night and kept in shade in the timber during the day than they produced when they couldn't get into the shade.

Farming up to third in 'most accidents'

Farming moved up from fourth to third place in 1948 as the most dangerous way of making a living according to the latest National Safety Council statistics. The time lost as the result of accidents to farm residents in any typical year amounts to the time needed to plant, cultivate and harvest nearly one-half the annual average wheat crop in the U. S.

To help reduce the needless deaths and crippling injuries to farm residents, the President has declared the week of July 23-29 as National Farm Safety Week.

Young & Rubicam, Inc. (Chicago), volunteer agency on the campaign for the fourth consecutive year, prepared the advertising materials. Robert R. Burton, agency vice president, heads the agency task force. Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager, Standard Oil Company (Indiana), is volunteer campaign coordinator for the fourth consecutive year.

Added impact for the Farm Safety program will be given by radio network advertisers during July through the Council's Radio Allocation Plan, and by local stations through the National Safety Council.

Another series of newspaper advertisements will be released for local sponsorship following the special Farm Safety Week promotion.

The Advertising Council's Stop Accidents campaign is conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council. Helen J. Crabtree is the Council's staff executive on the program.

Plan to seed corn to cover crop, is advice

Now is the time for farmers to be thinking about seeding corn to a legume-grass cover-crop according to the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar Ass'n. The seeding should be done after the last corn cultivation.

Such procedure is a big step toward erosion prevention and stepping up fertility for sugar beets and all other crops in the rotation, the Association points out.

A mixture of sweet clover and common domestic ryegrass is good. Sweet clover produces liberal quantities of nitrogen and ryegrass improved ground cover, reduces winter heaving of the granular soil structure through its root actions.

Where corn is seeded after the last cultivation ample legume fertilizer (0-20-20 or similar analysis) should have been drilled in just before corn-

Watch out for summer heat illnesses

High temperatures and the rush of summer farm work make it easy for farmers to be overcome by one of the several forms of heat illness.

Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes says that it is important that you learn to recognize the symptoms of heat illness so that you can start immediately helping the victim to recover.

Sunstroke follows prolonged exposure to the sun. Heatstroke or heat exhaustion occur from excessive heat with or without exposure to the sun. The effects of the two forms are the same and either may be fatal.

Symptoms are hot and dry skin, red and flushed face, hard and loud breathing, and enlarged pupils. Unconsciousness may follow in severe cases.

PREVENTION IS the best cure of either sunstroke or heatstroke, but you should be prepared if it does strike. Here is what the Illinois Farm and Home Safety Committee suggests:

1. Move the victim to a cool shady place, strip to the underclothing, and lay him on his back with head and shoulders raised.
2. Apply ice or cold wet cloths to head, cool the body gradually with a cool bath or with a hose, or wet the clothing and rub limbs toward the heart.
3. After treating for several minutes, stop and observe patient. If his skin becomes hot again, resume treatment.
4. If he is conscious, give him cool drinks, but not ice cold. Do not give stimulants.
5. Get the patient to a doctor or a hospital as soon as possible. Continue the treatment in the ambulance.

WITH HEAT exhaustion, the patient's skin is cold and clammy. A simple rule may serve as a guide to avoid confusion in treatment. Briefly, it is this: If the patient is cold, make him warm; if he is hot, make him cool.

LAW on the FARM

Fire and windstorm insurance. The Illinois insurance code of 1937 requires that all insurance offered for sale in Illinois fall within the classifications established by law as part of the code. Among these classifications are: (a) Fire. Insurance against loss or damage by fire, smoke, and smudge, lightning, or other electrical disturbances. (b) Elements. Insurance against loss or damage by earthquake, windstorms, cyclone, tornado, tempest, hail, frost, snow, ice, sleet, flood, rain, drought or other weather or climatic conditions including excess or deficiency of moisture, rising of the waters of the ocean or its tributaries.

Obviously this classification includes many risks against which it is not practicable to insure a farm. However, a few of them have been incorporated in policies that can be obtained for a reasonable premium. The most common are fire, lightning, windstorm, and hail. Policies are generally written to include different combinations of these risks, and the insured can decide which ones he feels he should include.

RATES VARY according to locality, prevalence of the risk, usual extent of the damage, and degree of protection afforded by the farmer or the community.

Fire insurance rates are not so high, for example, on a brick building as on a frame, nor are they so high on farm buildings in a fire protection district as they are on identical buildings that are not in such a district. The code empowers the State Director of Insurance to promote the public welfare by regulating insurance rates to the end that they shall not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory.

When a loss occurs, adequate proof must be made of the exact cause and the extent of the damage. Insurance companies employ claim adjusters to investigate such facts. However,

Parking meters here to stay; 'take'

The rapidly increasing number of Illinois cities that are using parking meters has reached a record total of 129, according to a survey released by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

The more than 49,000 meters installed in Illinois produce an annual revenue of nearly $3,000,000, the survey reported.

Five years ago only 18 communities had installed meters. By 1948 meters had been installed in 91 communities.

After a brief trial two communities, Sandwich and Forest Park, removed their parking meters. Reportedly these are the only two towns in the state to have installed and then removed them.

The survey was compiled by the Organization Service Department of the Illinois State Chamber. It reported an estimate by Vehicular Parking, Ltd. of Canton, Ohio that 2,245 cities in the United States had installed parking meters prior to the end of the year 1949. The number of parking meters now in use is said to exceed 825,000 of which 153,000 were installed in 1949.

Parking meter revenue should be devoted to the construction of "Off-the-Street Parking" facilities to alleviate the critical problem of city parking, the State Chamber recommended.

In the present time, it declared, parking meter revenue is being used for other corporate purposes.

Barrington, 263 meters, $12,227 receipts in 1949.
Des Plaines, 465 meters, $28,376 receipts in 1949.

Gateway plan opens door to tax reforms

Some improvements in the Illinois tax system would be possible if the Gateway amendment to the state constitution were passed this fall, Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, said.

The Gateway proposal would make it easier to amend Illinois' constitution. It will be voted on during the general election November 7.

Shuman urged all Illinois farmers to vote in favor of the Gateway amendment. As IAA head, Shuman is leader of Illinois' 175,000 Farm Bureau families.

One of the benefits of Gateway might be rewriting the state's revenue article so that property could be classified for tax purposes.

This would be not only a help to farmers but fair to all concerned, Shuman said.

He cited the following example of how classifying property might aid farmers:

A farmer has a wood lot planted to small trees. This piece of land is taxed at the same rate as the rest of his farm that's in crop land.

But the wood lot isn't yielding any income now. If the farm property were classified for tax purposes, taxes on the wood lot would be lower than on the rest of the farm.

When the trees started paying off, then the taxes would be adjusted.

Vets taking on-farm training may not be affected by new ruling

Veterans who started GI Bill institutional on-farm training before May 15 will not be affected by a recent Veterans Administration ruling that their farms must include tilling of the soil as a basic activity, VA said today.

Their farms, however, still must meet all other requirements of the law establishing the farm training program and of previous VA regulations.

The farms of veterans enrolling on or after May 15, VA pointed out, must meet the new criteria in order for veterans to remain in training.

Institutional on-farm training, VA explained, is a program that combines classroom instruction with actual experience on the veterans farm.

According to the ruling which applies to newcomers, a farm or other agricultural establishment on which GI Bill training is offered must include "The cultivation of the ground and the raising and harvesting of crops, including fruits, vegetables, pastures, etc."

The farm also may have, as an activity of greater or lesser economic importance, "The feeding, breeding and management of livestock, including poultry."

But single-enterprise establishments "Engaged solely in breeding, raising and sale of animals and poultry" do not meet the requirements of the law, the VA regulation continues. Neither do establishments engaged primarily in the processing, distribution or sale of agricultural products, it adds.

Veterans who started training on or after May 15 on farms which fail to meet VA's requirements may not continue on the institutional on-farm plan. Instead, they may train either on-the-job or in schools.

planting time, and weeds kept down in the growing corn. A mixture of 10 pounds per acre each of the ryegrass and sweet clover should be broadcast when the corn is knee-high, and dragged in and levelled off with a weeder or similar implement. Successful seedings of alfalfa and smooth brome grass also have been made in corn for subsequent hay and pasture.

For further information on seedings in corn, the Association recommends that farmers consult their county agricultural agent.

In the future

If you're fussy about coffee you may want to replace your percolator with a newly designed "tricolator"—a drip-type pot which does a triple-filtering job. A combination ceramic and spun aluminum unit, the pot makes an attractive table piece when the aluminum section is removed. It can be used for tea, too. The ladies will like a novel matchbook-size package containing cotton sheets for lipstick and nail polish removal. Much better for summer sneezers than well-intentioned "Gesundheit's" is a new atomizer passages with a fine antihistamine mist. It's claimed to provide fast relief for many allergy sufferers. A new-style, easy-to-install aluminum awning carries its own fan. Located at the base of the awning, the fan changes the air in a six-room house inside of three minutes. It operates on any light or appliance outlet.

N. U. enrolls 6,980 for summer sessions

A total of 6,980 persons are enrolled for summer study at Northwestern University, Dr. Albert C. Van Dusen, Summer Sessions director, announced. The figure is slightly less than last summer's registration and is in line with a national trend of reduced enrollments. Largest registration is in the Graduate School where 1,808 are enrolled. University officials believe this indicates a continuation of the pre-war type of registration, with greater numbers studying for advanced degrees in contrast to accelerated programs at the undergraduate level.

Well planned novel depicts both sides of World War II

It is far easier to write about a poor novel than a good one; easier to tear apart than to praise. The critic can become mockingly humorous over an inept use of words or a tear a trite plot into ribbons. But for the well done, he uses the same tired words the movie advertisers and radio soap sellers have so over-used that they are ceasing to hold the meaning they once did.

The Young Lions by Irwin Shaw was a best seller several years ago and widely acclaimed. Only recently I read it, and found in its beautifully integrated 689 pages all that the critics have claimed. The sweep of the second World War is personalized in the figures of several soldiers, both American and German, who are followed from their civilian lives and acquaintances through their induction and war years. This large plan calls for several separate books interwoven in one whole. The stories draw closer and closer together so that the last pages show the ironic fulfillment of the ends of war.

This method has the advantage of making both sides human and thus developing a sympathetic understanding of their aims. There is a heightening of suspense as the reader leaves the American boy Noah badly injured at the front lines to follow the German soldier Christian retreating in a confused jumble of Germans.

Besides the overall war, between the enemies, there are lesser struggles within each army—the Jewish boy caught in the racial hatred of the training camp; the ideology of the Nazis as expressed through Lt. Harndenburg as he talks to "Christian." As no impersonal history of the war ever can, a novel such as this personalizes the combat experience for those who did not fight and gives them an emotional understanding of war conditions.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Pet Playmates

Four chickens and a dog are the favorite playmates of little Linda Dallas, one and one half year old daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dallas, 24 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights.

Linda has blonde hair, blue eyes, is "vivacious and full of laughter," stated Mrs. Dallas. "She loves to play with the animals," continued her mother, "and is allowed to feed the dog."

When this young lady isn't busy with her pets, she spends much of her time in her rubber Koroseal wading pool.

Linda's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Price of 24 Kennicott ave., and her paternal grandparent is Mr. Charles Atkins of Towanda, Ill.

Friendly baby
This brown eyed, brown haired baby is nine month old Helen Espenshade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Espenshade, formerly of 813 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Can't tell much about this little one's personality yet, but "she shows a liking for people and is a good natured baby," reported her Daddy. Helen has a brother David who is six years old.

The Espenshades are temporarily living in Williams Bay, Wis., while waiting for their new home on S. Beverly Lane to be completed.

Future pilot?
Airplanes, airplanes—and more airplanes—that's for little Bill Wiehrdt. This happy youngster is the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wiehrdt, 145 E. Chicago, Palatine.

Bill talks a lot about airplanes and talks of owning an airport someday. He will be 5 years old next month and ready for school next fall. "We don't talk much about school," said Mrs. Wiehrdt, "Bill hasn't made up his mind whether he will like it or not."

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wiehrdt, 244 E. Chicago ave., Palatine, are his paternal grandparents.

Little Lady
These bright eyes, and beaming smile belong to Sharon Kreft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kreft, 110 N. Cedar st., Palatine. Sharon is two and one half years old and has blonde hair and blue eyes.

This youngster likes to ride her bike as most little tots her age, but her main diversion is "dressing up and changing her clothes." "She's quite the little lady," laughed Mrs. Kreft, "and she loves to look pretty, sometimes changing her clothes four and five times a day. Keeps me busy keeping her in one outfit," she explained.

Sharon has a nine year old brother, Donald, of whom she is very fond. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tudyman, 418 W. Wilson st.,

Modern Etiquette

Q. Does a man precede a woman when going down the aisle of a theater?
A. This depends upon whether the usher takes the checks at the head of the aisle. If this is the case, the woman goes first. If the couple starts down the aisle to meet the usher, the man goes first and hands the checks to the usher. He then stands aside while the woman takes her place, and then he takes his.

Q. Is it considered all right to eat the lettuce upon which a salad is served?
A. This is quite all right. If a person likes lettuce, he is privileged to eat it if he wishes.

Q. Is it proper to address the envelope to a woman as "Mary A. Jones."
A. No. The prefix "Mrs." or "Miss" should always be used.

Q. Is it all right for the mother of the bridegroom to determine how many attendants the bride shall have, and also help to select them?
A. Most certainly not; this is entirely the privilege of the bride, and the bridegroom's mother would be interfering in matters that do not concern her.

Q. When a person is helping himself from a service dish which has on it a fork and spoon, which implement is taken in which hand?
A. The fork is held in the left hand, the spoon in the right hand.

Q. What is the correct way for a woman to introduce her husband?
A. "Mr. Johnson, this is my husband."

Q. If a person accidentally jars against another person, is it correct for him to say, "Pardon me?"
A. "Pardon me" is considered a little too abrupt under these circumstances. It is much better to say, "I beg your pardon," or, "I am sorry."

Q. Should a photograph of one's self be framed when giving it as a gift?
A. No; you do not know whether the recipient wishes to place it on a desk or hang it on a wall—or even keep it in a drawer.

Q. Is it all right to serve corn on the cob at a formal dinner?
A. No; it should be served only at informal affairs.

Q. Is it correct on a golf course to call caddies to account for their mistakes?
A. Yes, but in a courteous manner, not in the rough language sometimes employed on the course. The example of courtesy to the young should be observed in dealing with caddies. Be careful never to speak hastily to your caddy when you are feeling disgusted at your own poor play.

Lessons In . . . English

Words often misused

Do not say, "If this can be proven, the credit will be given to you and I." Say, "If this can be proved, the credit will be given to you and me."

Do not say, "It is nothing else but cowardice." Say, "It is nothing else than cowardice."

Do not say, "He followed after his father." Omit after.
Do not say, "I'm most nearly ready." Say, "I'm nearly (or, almost) ready."

Do not say, "The clock tells me that it is a quarter of twelve." Say, "A quarter to twelve." "A quarter of twelve" would be three o'clock.

Words often mispronounced

Precocious and precocity. Pronounce first o in precocious as in no. Pronounce the o in precocity as in on.
Harbinger (a forerunner). Pronounce har-bin-ger, a as in ah, i ### as in bin, accent first syllable.

Scenic. Pronounce first syllable as seen, preferred.
Stoic. Pronounce sto-ik, o as in no, and in two syllables, not as stoyk.

Ally (noun and verb). Pronounce a-ly, a as in at, i as in lie, accent second syllable.
Lehar (Hungarian composer). Pronounce le-har, e as in let, a as in ah, accent first syllable.

Words often misspelled

Aggravate, gra; aggregate, gre. Wont (custom; habit), no apostrophe; won't (contraction of will not), observe the apostrophe. Hoop (a circle); whoop (a shout). Collar (a neckpiece); choler (anger, wrath). Daffodil; two f's. one l. Base (pedestal); bass (in music).

Word study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Counterpoise; an equivalent power or force acting in opposition; a state of balance. "The everyday cares and duties, which men call drudgery, are the weights and counterpoises of the clock of time."—Longfellow.

Prophetic; foretelling events. (Pronounce pro-fet-ik, o as in no unstressed, accent second syllable). "His words bore a prophetic significance."

Gratuitous; given freely without claim or consideration. (Pronounce first u as in use; accent follows first u). "His offer of financial aid was gratuitous."

Circumspect; watchful in all directions; cautious; prudent. "The circumspect person will avoid many pitfalls in life."

Indefinite; incapable of being described. "The man has an indefinite charm."

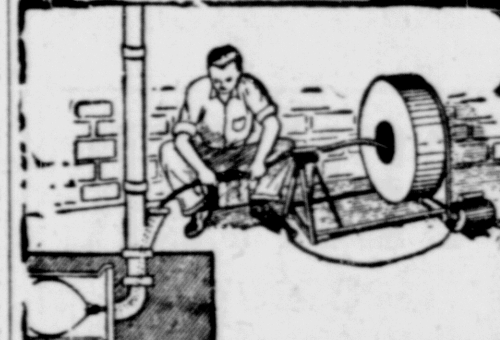

Prosaic; dull; commonplace. (Pronounce pro-za-ik, a as in day, accent second syllable). "Some of us lead very prosaic lives."

Keys returned

The Disabled American Veterans has returned a set of lost keys to F. H. Hubbard, Jr., of Arlington Heights. Attached to the keys was a DAV Identification Tag, miniature license tag for key-rings, which is distributed to 30,000,000 motorists each year and the replica of their state license plates enables the DAV to return 5,000 keys a month from its national headquarters in Cincinnati.

Here Are The Facts Of Our Budget Plan And Automatic Keep-Full Service For Central Heating Plants Burning Fuel Oil:

The results of our first year of selling FUEL OIL under a BUDGET PLAN, have been very gratifying from reports of customer satisfaction.

It is the convenient way to pay for fuel oil over a period of 11 months, starting in June and ending in April of the following calendar year. This will avoid the payment of these bills when deliveries are made, or on the first of the month during the peak four or five months of the burning season, when so many other bills must be paid.

There is no extra charge for this service. In fact, you save money by selecting this BUDGET PLAN.

Our AUTOMATIC KEEP-FULL service is yours for the asking at no extra charge.

We have good reason to believe that there will be quite a number of our regular customers who will avail themselves of this BUDGET PLAN, in addition to the many new customers that have already requested information regarding it.

This is your invitation to make inquiry about this convenient money-saving plan.

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED.

Palatine woman reports on national woman's club meet

At the recent convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, held in Boston May 29 to June 3, Mrs. George F. Gschwindt of Palatine, president of the Illinois Seventh District Federation, represented the clubs in her districts. Finding it a "stimulating, educational and thrilling" experience, Mrs. Gschwindt returned to report to clubs in her district. Highlights of her report follow.

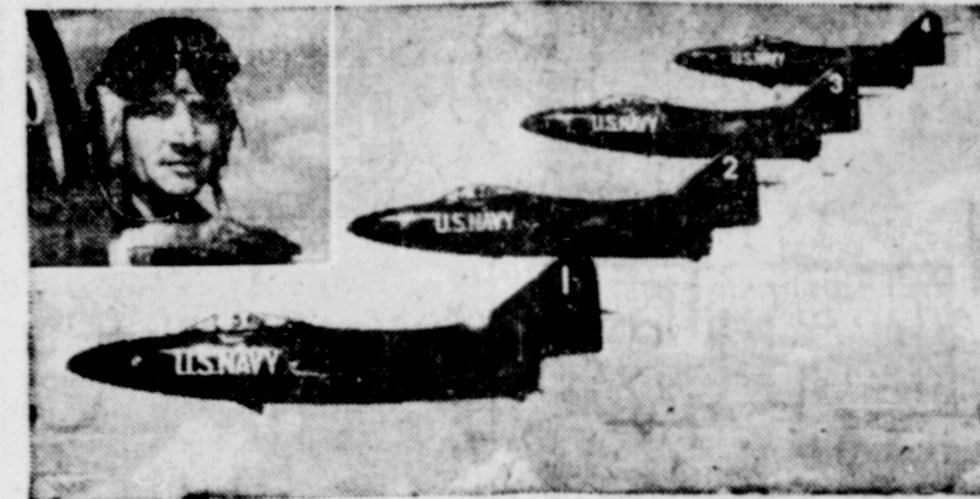

The convention opened on a Monday night with a Massachusetts dinner of such typical dishes as Boston baked beans, clam chowder and brown bread. Presiding at this 59th convention was the Federation president, Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, Gov. Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts greeted the delegates warmly and invited them to enjoy to the fullest the sights of historical Boston. Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston also welcomed the guests and told them much of the history of the city. An operatic soprano, Miss Alice Farnsworth, and the Bowme male quartet, provided the entertainment portion of the evening. Following the meeting a reception in honor of Mrs. Buck was held at the Hotel Statler.

OPENED WITH devotions by the religious education chairman, Mrs. M. E. Moreland, most of the Tuesday morning session was given over to reports of the Credentials committee, the Massachusetts Convention committee and of the Nominating committee. Each candidate was then given five minutes to speak but not one mentioned herself personally. Each instead spoke in formally of projects. The Illinois candidate, Mrs. Theodore Chapman, was good looking and spoke with assurance and poise.

"World Cooperation" was the topic of President Buck's keynote address in which she said, "The cold war between the East and the West is growing steadily worse. The knowledge that Russia as well as the United States has the atom bomb and also the snorkel submarine and that both countries may soon develop the H bomb has sent a wave of fear over the peace-loving countries of the world, which is causing a strange hysteria. In this country it is taking the form of a return to isolationism and America first." In the remainder of a magnetic speech, she told of travels in foreign lands.

THE AFTERNOON session was opened with assembly singing honoring candidates from California, Illinois and New Mexico. Reports were given by Miss Stella Scumlock, Youth conservation chairman; Mrs. Horace B. Ritche, Scholarship chairman, who told that 4000 students received their scholarships; Education chairman, Mrs. Chapman, who presented Guidance chairman Mrs. Edwin Troland, Literary chairman, Mrs. Carl Bishop, and Religious education chairman, Mrs. M. E. Moreland. Ruth Bryan Rhode, alternate delegate to the United Nations, and a dynamic speaker like her famous father, William Jennings Bryan, was the afternoon's keynote speaker. In her talk entitled "Today's Challenge in Education" she emphasized the

'Blue Angels' jets in Navy show Sunday

Here is the U. S. Navy's great team of jet fighters, the "Blue Angels," who will give a spectacular exhibition as a feature of next Sunday's Plymouth Chicago model airplane meet at the Naval Air Station, Glenview. The contest will be open to the public, free of charge. Inset, above, is one of the "Blue Angel" pilots, Lt. (jg) Francis J. Murphy of Brookfield. In addition to the Blue Angels' four-plane maneuvers, other precision flying and a helicopter demonstration will be part of the air show. A parade at 3 p. m. Sunday will open the Navy's activity in the show.

The model plane contest will find hundreds of the Chicago area's finest builders and fliers in competition for places in Plymouth's international championship finals scheduled for Detroit in August. Speed, endurance and stunt contests for gasoline, rubber and jet-powered models will be staged on the vast runways and landing mat areas of the station.

importance of the education of youth, and the need for better school conditions, playgrounds and better religious education.

"WHAT PROGRESS May We Expect in the Next Half Century?" was the topic of the special American Town Meeting of the Air broadcast that opened the evening session. Appearing on the panel were Dr. James R. Killian, president of MIT; Dr. Ernest A. Hootan, anthropologist and curator of the Peabody museum of Harvard; Dr. Fairfield Osborn, president of the New York Zoological society, and George V. Denny, founder and moderator of Town meeting. Erwin Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, served as moderator. Questions were asked directly from the assembly, and members found it exciting to be right at a broadcast and see how everything was done.

Wednesday morning was again opened with assembly singing honoring this time candidates from Florida, Oregon and Tennessee, followed by greetings from honorary officers and reports from Membership, Federation Extension and Pensions and Resolutions committees.

CONNECTICUT and Michigan candidates were honored by songs Wednesday afternoon. Reports were given by the General Federation chairman, the Radio chairman, and by Mrs. Joseph R. Chesser, of the Irving Park Woman's club, the chairman of Motion Pictures. In her report Mrs. Chesser said that the Illinois 7th District had given her much cooperation. Dr. Brooks Emery, president of the Foreign Policy association, spoke on "Some Frontiers of American Foreign Policy."

KROGER AWARDS were the highlight of Wednesday evening's session, following vocal selections by Henry Heald, baritone. State presidents presented winners of their states, and Joseph B. Hall, president of the Kroger company, and Judge E. J. Matthews, an attractive woman, presented the final awards in the Better Community project.

A small club of only 19 members, the Iuka club of Iuka, Miss., took the sweepstakes prize of $10,000 in all to be used for further community betterment. The members of the Iuka club brought two doctors into their community, set up an eye, ear, nose and throat clinic, employed two new teachers, had a dial telephone system installed, had the school grounds landscaped, cleaned the business streets and presented a "merry-go-round" to the park.

As first prize winner the club had already received $5000 and received $5000 more in the

Des Plaines trio in water 16 hours before rescue

The annual vacation fishing trip of Robert Durband of Des Plaines, his daughter, Marcia, and her fiancée, Richard Korsgard, Ballard and Rand road, ended in a near tragedy when their boat capsized last week on Lake Independence, Michigan, during a sudden wind storm that whipped the lake into six foot high waves.

The party had caught a small fish limit on Ives Lake and decided on Monday to motor eight miles north to Lake Independence.

The lake was calm upon their arrival but soon after they started fishing near a log-jam a squall came up and whipped up waves six feet high. The party attempted to reach shore but the going was too tough and they threw overboard all their equipment other than the motor to lighten the load. A sudden wind gust overturned the boat and the threesome was in the water 16 hours before rescuers were able to reach them.

Martha Scott now playing at Chevy Chase

Martha Scott, supported by Broadway Actor Herbert Rudley and Ilka Diehl, leading lady of the resident company, stars in Rose Franken's play, "Another Language," fifth production of the Chevy Chase Summer theatre, which closes Sunday night at the air-conditioned theatre.

The sixth production of the Chevy Chase Summer Theatre season undoubtedly will be one of the most talked of plays on the country's summer theatre circuit for it brings Imogene Coca back to the stage in "Happy Birthday." The play opens Tuesday, July 11, and will run through the following Sunday. Tickets for "Happy Birthday" already are scarce, according to Producer Marshall Migatz. Reserved seats for evening performances Tuesday through Sunday are $3, $2.40 and $1.50, while all Wednesday matinee seats are $1.50. Chevy Chase Summer Theatre is one mile north of Wheeling on Milwaukee ave. Tickets are available by mail, but telephone reservations can be made by calling Wheeling 280.

Invention of Candles
China claims the invention of candles about 5,000 B. C. These were probably just brittle rushes or reeds whose piths were saturated with grease or wax.

Wooded home site may abound with undesirable trees

Home builders, take warning! Before you sign on the dotted line for that supposedly ideal wooded tract for the dream castle, check the desirability of the trees.

Above all, don't take the word of anybody but the acknowledged tree specialist.

This stop, look and listen advice is sounded by H. E. Rioux, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who says heavy extra costs and unnecessary headaches can be avoided. Firstly, the buyer usually pays a premium for the wooded property.

Secondly, the bankroll takes a heavy beating when many inferior trees are removed before building operations. Too frequently, Davey field men are called to determine which trees are worth saving after properties are purchased. Mr. Rioux cites a typical case of a newly purchased plot some .85 feet wide and 200 feet deep on which 50 good-sized trees were checked the other day. Only three adult specimens were desirably located and valuable for ornamental use. The owner paid a premium price for the tract, but faced an additional heavy drain on his bankroll for removal of the undesirable landscaping.

Glenview OKs $175,000 for improving parks

In a special election Glenview Park District was given an O.K.

to proceed with the issuance of bonds in the amount of $175,000 for its program of acquiring and improving park properties. The proposition passed by a vote of 278 to 190. Plans include acquisition of properties in Glenayre, Glen Oak Acres and Countryside for development and construction of parks and playgrounds; purchase and erection of playground apparatus and grading, seeding and planting of trees and shrubs on grounds of schools under lease to the Park District; and improvements to Manor, Diederich and Roosevelt Parks.

Outlook for second half of '50 still bright

Since fighting erupted in Korea and echoed ominously throughout the world, United States retailers have been casting a wary eye on developments in the far east. If the war clouds spread, they fear, it may eventually mean resumption of government controls here, with consequent merchandise shortages. This is a logical if not an imminent prospect. Barring such a development, however, the retailing outlook for the year's second half is bright. Observers who have been worrying about a widespread summer slump can put on their rose-colored glasses again. According to most economic scene-watchers — from government, industry, and labor — business isn't yet ready for a toboggan ride. They cite the following facts to back up their views:

1. Personal incomes, still riding the crest, are running at a healthy $3,000,000,000 above 1949's high point.
2. According to the Federal Reserve System's annual survey of consumer finances most people are planning to keep on spending heavily right through the year, especially for durable goods such as homes, cars, and refrigerators.
3. Capital spending (for new plant and equipment) by business is climbing again. This should provide a comfortable cushion for the months ahead.
4. Installment buying, instead of tapering off has been increasing.

Bits o' business

Furniture makers are sitting pretty. Sales are running as high as 25 to 33 per cent over 1949 levels. The reason: booming new house sales are bringing lots of new customers to the nation's bed, chair, and table dealers. Look for a cut in pork prices before 1951 bows in. Current government estimates are that some 60,000,000 porkers will go to market between October and January. That tops last year's marked-for-slaughter pig population by three per cent beats the 10-year average by nine per cent.

New ideas for that home

The Blye is provided with an unusual amount of closet and storage space. There is a handy coat closet at each entrance; a large wardrobe in every bedroom; a broom closet and storage cabinet in the kitchen and linen and storage closets in the hall. The three foot deep, six foot wide hall storage closet is large enough to hold a sewing machine or other bulky household items.

A cupboard with a rounded counter separates the modern kitchen from the dining room. The kitchen cabinets are arranged in a U-shape with the double compartment sink in the center under the window. All rooms in The Blye are well lighted and have cross ventilation as well as good wall space.

The exterior of The Blye is finished with siding. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Front elevation of The Blye has a brick fireplace, recessed entrance and wide overhanging eaves protecting the corner window.

Dimensions of The Blye are basement ceiling, 7 feet by 2 inches; the first floor ceiling, 8 feet by 3 inches. There is an area of 1084 square feet and volume of 22,690 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BLYE, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

Perhaps no other trait of character is needed more in the home than that of courtesy. Far too many homes are without it. It is much easier for a man to bark and growl or a woman to yip and snap when things go wrong than for two partners to be considerate and understanding of each other.

Courtesy and understanding which is a must in courtship when the winning of a mate demands thoughtfulness and consideration, are too often like the Dutchman's shoes, left outside the threshold, after the marriage.

It is sometimes hard to come home from the office and hide the insults you have swallowed from the boss, the misfortunes and petty irritations, the tiredness and boredom. But if they can be hidden, if courtesy and consideration can win out, then the man or woman who succeeds in covering their irritable pettiness has gone a long way toward making his or her home a happier, more wholesome place to live in and for children to grow up in.

Everyone knows that one's children nearly drive one crazy once in a while, but perhaps here, too, understanding and patient firmness, an air of courtesy and self restraint can do more in influencing a child's behavior and attitudes when he grows up than any other method of child training. And most certainly a tired, bitter, whining wife complaining to a tired, irritable, bitter husband who make no attempt to hide their feelings is not conducive to a happy home and does not serve as a good example to the children of how to win friends and influence people in the right way.

Most of us find it within our power to be polite and considerate to strangers, and of our friends and acquaintances no matter how tired and frustrated we may feel, yet we become exasperated beyond all reason by often the most trifling things that happen about the house. Undoubtedly it is because we expect too much from our loved ones—and often offer too little in return. Love and consideration are things that must be earned. We cannot expect to receive them unless we first practice the habit of showing them ourselves.

It is a sorry fact that most of us have too high an opinion of our own worth. We think that other people owe us kind treatment, special favors. We are shocked and hurt when people who are as busy or as 'tired as we are fail to jump at our slightest wish. Yet winning the co-operation and help of others is the result of appreciating their kindnesses, understanding their difficulties and being willing to go more than half way once in a while to help them out and doing it with a spirit of cheerfulness instead of with an air of being persecuted and abused.

The habit of looking at the other fellow's point of view helps a lot in keeping down the urge to snarl and snap.

Sucker state seeks change to prairie

For years Illinois residents have squirmed at the unfortunate nickname, "Sucker State," which was applied to their fair territory in the early 1800's.

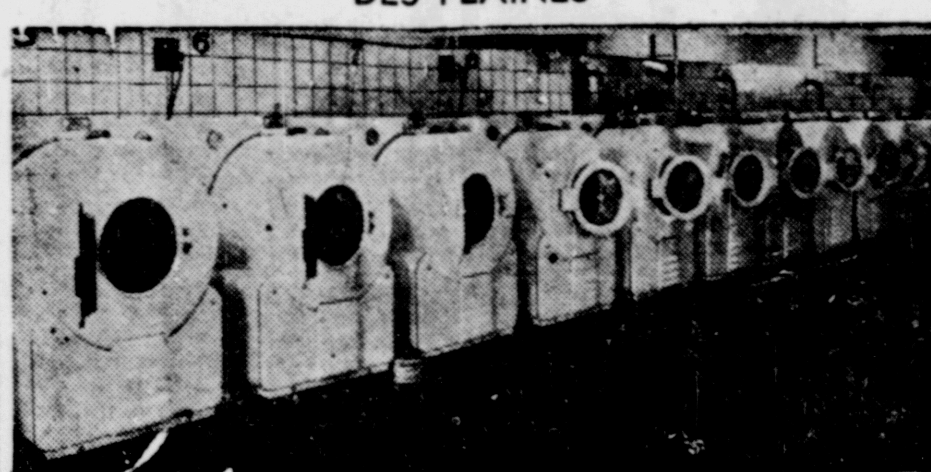

However, according to research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, the nickname isn't as bad as it sounds, because the earliest use of the term "sucker" was "one who lives by his wits." This means, explains the research experts, stems from the sucker fish which attaches itself to a large fish to obtain transportation and food.

Illinois embarrassment springs from the new meaning of the word "sucker," which is greenhorn, dupe, or easy mark. This unfortunate change has caused the state to plug for its new nickname, "The Prairie State."
